Rose in Three-Way Tie for Leadership

By MEL SUFRIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SASKATOON, March 7.—(CP)—Giant killer of the ice lanes, Frank Avery's British Columbians, today halted Manitoba's advance in the Macdonald's Brier tankard, emblematic of the Canadian curling championship and forced a three-way tie.

B.C., which last night beat down the threat of Perry Hall's powerful Ontario four, came back this morning in the eighth round of the series to defeat Leo Johnson's Winnipeg Strathconas, 12-10.

MANITOBA, Northern Ontario and Alberta enter the final round this afternoon in a tie, each with six wins and two losses.

Skilful play in the pinches was the mark of victory for Skip Avery and his Vancouver rink, while Johnson's men found difficulty in meeting the weight. Avery placed his draw shots with uncanny accuracy.

In another classic, Northern Ontario, skipped by Tom Ramsay, came through with two three-enders for a 10-7 victory over Ontario.

AFTER THE SEVENTH END, Billy Rose and his Alberta four forged ahead for a 13-6 win over George Macintosh and his Nova Scotia aggregation.

At the end of the morning play British Columbia, Ontario and Saskatchewan were tied for second place. Each had five wins and three losses.

Prince Edward Island scored its first victory in four days of play,

Says Building To Cut Jobless This Summer

Although there are now 30,000 men and women registered as unemployed in the three prairie provinces, an estimated building program for the summer of $33,000,000 is likely to provide work for a majority of those physically able, Fred J. White, regional superintendent of the unemployment insurance commission, said here Thursday.

MR. WHITE, A FORMER Labor member of the Alberta Legislature, is in Edmonton attending sittings of the prairie regional employment committee, under the chairmanship of Judge W. J. Lindal of Winnipeg.

"I believe that programs of construction to be undertaken this summer will lead to a great improvement in the employment situation, Mr. White told newspapermen.

For the first time in many months there has been an improvement shown in the work situation as regards females, with more job vacancies last month than there were applicants for work, Mr. White said.

THE PROBLEM of securing labor for sugar beet raising, production of which will be stepped up on the prairies, will be dealt with by the board.

Manitoba is trying to step up acreage for sugar beets from 10,000 to 15,000.

Spy Witness Gets Death Warning

OTTAWA, March 7—(CP)—Mrs. Fernande Joubarne, secretary to Crown Attorney Raoul Mercier and one of the key figures in the beginning of Canada's bizaare spy inquiry, today received a letter warning her that "If there are any more stories about you in the newspapers you will not be around to read them."

Mrs. Joubarne, who received the letter in this morning's mail, turned the document and the envelope over to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who said it was too early to reach a conclusion as to the portent of the letter.

THE LETTER WARNED Mrs. Joubarne she was to take no further part in the espionage inquiry and said that if she was called as a witness in "the big case" she was to "forget about the people who came to see you last September."

This was assumed to be a reference to Igor Gouzenko, young cipher clerk of the Russian embassy, who visited Mr. Mercier's office last September, bringing with him a bulky packet which he said told of the ramifications of the spy ring, then unknown to Canadian authorities.

Council Will Amend Bylaw

City to Allow 6,500 Patrons Into Arena for Playoff Games

A maximum of 6,500 patrons will be permitted in the Arena for the balance of the Western Canada play-off games, and for Allan cup and other play-offs scheduled for Edmonton.

DECISION TO PERMIT ticket sales up to 6,500 was made Wednesday when city council by unanimous vote, decided to amend the city fire bylaw which prohibited ticket sale to "standing room only patrons."

Seating capacity of the arena is 4,760. All-time high attendance at one hockey game is 6,452.

While the council's decision to amend the bylaw was unanimous, many of the aldermen voted on the understanding that certain structural changes would be made forthwith to improve exits from the building. These improvements will be to the north and south exits, and C. E. Wilson, managing director of the Edmonton Exhibition Association gave assurance

Strike of Telephone Workers Is Averted

NEW YORK, March 7.—(AP)—A threatened walkout of some 250,000 United States telephone workers over a wage dispute was averted today, a half hour before the strike deadline.

EDGAR L. WARREN, chief of the federated conciliation service, announced that an agreement had been reached between the Federation of Long Line Telephone Workers, NFTW affiliate, and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

An agreement with the long lines provides for a wage increase averaging 17.6 cents an hour, Mr. Warren added similar wage hikes would apply to some 15,000 employees at the Western Electric Company in Keary, N.J., who have been on strike since Jan. 3.

Milder Weather Is Due in the City

The customary cold weather of March may turn out to be just an interlude in an otherwise mild post-January climate, according to officials at the Dominion meteorological station here. They forecast for Thursday and Friday "clearing and moderating, with moderate southeast winds." The estimated high temperature for the day was 25.

OVERALL FORECAST for the Edmonton region warned of more snow Friday morning, with continuing cooler temperatures until Friday noon. There will be southeasterly winds of ten to 15 miles an hour Thursday and Friday morning, the experts claim, with the breezes turning westerly at 15 miles an hour later Friday.

For the Red Deer region, the forecast was for slowly moderating temperatures with an estimated high reading tomorrow of 20.

SNOW WAS ANTICIPATED in the Peace River region with continued moderate temperatures. High Reading at Grande Prairie Thursday was expected to be 20 with a minimum Friday of 15.

High temperature Wednesday was 23 at 1:30 p.m. Minimum was 13 at 7:30 a.m. Overnight minimum was 2 at 12:30 a.m. and the reading at 8:30 a.m. was 5. There was one-third of an inch of snow during the last 24 hours.

The sun rises Friday at 7:07 a.m. and sets at 6:22 p.m.

Von Papen Says He Made Peace Feelers

By WALTER CRONKITE
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

NUERNBERG, March 7.—(BUP)—Baron Franz Von Papen told the War Crimes Tribunal today that he made secret peace feelers in 1942 to George Earle, American naval attache in Turkey, in violation of Adolf Hitler's orders.

VON PAPEN ALSO claimed in a brief filed with the court that he made a second peace attempt in 1942, seeking mediation efforts through the Vatican.

Earle, former governor of Pennsylvania and later American minister to Sofia, was attached to the American embassy in Turkey while Papen was Germany's wartime ambassador to that country.

Papen asked permission to call as defence witness Kurt Freiberg Von Lersner, German president of the Orient league in Ankara, when Papen was ambassador.

THE AMBASSADOR asked that Lersner should be asked this question:

"Is it correct that Papen, despite an express order from Berlin to abstain from any peace conversa-

City's 1945 Surplus Amounts to $4,000

The City of Edmonton ended its 1945 fiscal year with a surplus of approximately $4,000, it was learned at the Civic Block Thursday. This surplus will be placed in the city's general reserve account.

City Commissioner John Hodgson stated that the departmental and utilities estimates are nearing completion, and that they will be ready for submission to city council at a series of special meetings to be held about March 20.

WHILE NO DEFINITE figures are available as to expenditures contemplated in 1946, it is known that approximately $2,500,000 will be expended from the utilities reserve accounts for extensions to utility services and replacements.

Indications are that 1946 revenue will probably be the greatest in the city's history. City commissioners have stated that expenditures this year, both on general and utility accounts, will be extremely heavy. On this basis there appears to be little hope of any decrease in the 49½ mill rate that has prevailed in the civic budget over the past several years.

King, Attlee Reveal Agreement Reached

OTTAWA, March 7.—(CP)—Canada has agreed to loan Britain $1,250,000,000, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said today in announcing some of the agreements reached during loan negotiations which concluded yesterday.

TERMS OF THE LOAN are similar to those of the $4,400,000,000 loan to the United Kingdom by the United States, said Mr. King in a statement that was released simultaneously in London by Prime Minister Attlee.

The Canadian credits represent an entirely new loan and are not connected in any way with the $700,000,000 interest-free loan made to Britain in 1942.

THE NEW LOAN will carry interest at two per cent from Jan. 1, 1951, and will be repayable over 50 years, beginning at the end of 1951. There is an article providing for the waiver of interest payments in defined circumstances.

The agreement contains a provision under which Canada agrees to cancel the $425,000,000 Britain still owed as her share of the cost of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

A supplementary agreement was arranged for the settlement of all remaining claims which each government has against the other, arising out of the war.

UNDER THIS supplementary agreement, the United Kingdom government will make a payment to Canada of $150,000,000 and will cancel all its claims on the Canadian

British House Cheers Canada For New Loan

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, March 7.—(CP)—The British House of Commons today received with hearty "Hear! Hear!" the news of Canada's $1,250,000,000 loan to Britain and, following Prime Minister Attlee's announcement, members of various parties immediately offered their appreciation to the Dominion.

C. E. DAVIES, Liberal, asked the Prime Minister to convey to Canada "the gratitude of the whole House—for only the latest instance of the memorable services Canadians have rendered."

Amid cheers, Mr. Attlee said: "The feelings of this House will be conveyed by me to the Canadian government."

R. De la Bere, Conservative, shouted: "Canada has been magnificent"—and new cheering broke out.

W. J. Brown, Independent member for Rugby, asked if it was not conceivable that similar loan arrangements made between the United Kingdom and other dominions "might spare us as a nation

Black Marketers Active in West

Operations of black marketers from Eastern Canada, now active in the west is interfering seriously with the flow of needed foodstuffs to Great Britain, R. J. Dinning, president of Burns and Company, said here Thursday.

MR. DINNING SAID that there has been increasing evidence of the activities of the black marketers in Western Canada of late buying up meat products from the producers at higher prices than market prices.

They are outbidding the legitimate dealers and as a result shipments overseas are impeded.

Blackmarketing in meats is described as "rampant" in Eastern Canada but it is only recently that it has become a menace in Western Canada, he said.

German Communist Spies Are Arrested

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

BERLIN, March 7.—(BUP)—The arrest of a group of influential German Communists accused of trying to create a sort of espionage system in the American occupation zone of Berlin was announced officially today.

COL. FRANK L. HOWLEY, U.S. military governor in Berlin, announced the arrest of the German communists. At the same time he sounded a cryptic warning to restive Germans.

"Some Germans have a mistaken notion that the Americans are going to leave Europe soon, and are getting bold," Howley said. "We have plenty of troops and intelligence operatives to handle any situation."

Howley said 10 leading German communists were taken into custody by the Americans. They included one prominent burough party leader. Russian authorities, acting on U.S. insistence, he said, "Removed and arrested" another prominent communist—Karl Raddatz, chairman of the Berlin "victims of fascism" committee.

THE 10 ARRESTED by the Americans, Howley reported, probably will be put on trial before a U.S. military government court within two weeks.

Ottawa May Act To Ease NHA Plan

VANCOUVER, March 7—(CP)—The federal government may ask Canadian loan companies operating under the National Housing Act to allow higher loan values on houses being built by persons in the lower-income bracket, it was announced in a press conference here yesterday by Hon. SUCH A STEP would allow Canadians with moderate incomes to build houses with smaller down payments than are possible under present loan values granted under the NHA housing setup.

At present there are many complaints that home-builders are not able to take advantage of NHA loans because of the wide gap between the building contractor's price and the value set on the home by the loan company.

More Charges Will Be Laid In Spy Probe

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, March 7. — (CP) — Some of the nine men still held in Canada's Soviet spy ring inquiry definitely will be charged under the Official Secrets Act and their appearance in court will coincide with release of the second interim report of the Royal Commission inquiry. The Canadian Press learned authoritatively yesterday.

WHEN THESE CHARGES will be laid was not known, but it was not expected the accused would be brought into court for another week or so. The number to be charged also was unknown, but it was believed they would constitute a complete "cell" in the ring, which the commission said in its first interim report Monday had operated "under direct instructions from Moscow."

It was noted the interim report identified Capt. Gordon Lunan, one of four persons arraigned in court Monday under the official secrets act, as the "head of a group" which worked under the personal instructions of a member of the Russian embassy staff in Ottawa.

This prompted the belief that charges would be laid against groups of persons who acted as "cells" in the espionage organization. It was considered likely that none of those in any one cell was known to the members of another such group.

FOLLOWING PROCEDURE used in the first interim report, which covered one group, it was considered likely the commission would release interim reports as it concluded inquiry into activities of each "cell."

It also was learned that any additional detentions in the inquiry, aside from the nine men now held and the two men and two women arraigned Monday, will depend on evidence being presented before the royal commissioner, Mr. Justice Robert Taschereau and R. L. Kellock of the supreme court.

Just how many persons were involved could not be learned in exact numbers, but the organization, likened by the commission to a "network," is believed to have extended to organizations closely associated with Russia either through blood ties or political leanings.

OFFICIAL CIRCLES said the inquiry had disclosed no connection between the ring and Communist organizations in other countries.

An unnamed barrister representing one of those held charged in an interview that coercion and third degree methods had been used in questioning the suspects and this statement was promptly met with a denial from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

"Absolute nonsense, of course," commented Assistant Commissioner Royal Gagnon of the RCMP. "We do not use third-degree methods.

Farmer Killed By Welfare Ward

KAMLOOPS, B.C., March 7.—(CP)—A coroner's jury here yesterday named a 17-year-old Vancouver boy, a welfare case, as the killer of Gordon Burns, 44, trapper and farmer of Valemount, B.C., 200 miles northeast of Kamloops.

The jury found Burns was fatally wounded on his farm March 1 by bullets from a .33 calibre rifle fired by the boy. The boy was taken into custody by police last Saturday after a search of bushland near the Burns home.

No charge has been laid against the boy. It was expected he would appear in juvenile court Thursday.

THE BOY, WHO HAD BEEN sent to the Burns farm in January by the provincial welfare bureau, has been held for questioning in connection with the death.

Police said the fatal shot was fired from a window in the farmhouse as Mr. and Mrs. Burns returned from working in the barn. Mrs. Burns was grazed by one of four more bullets fired at the couple.

A. S. McAndrew, 74, a trapper, and Constable G. D. Ball of the British Columbia provincial police testified the boy told them he shot Burns and fired several bullets at Mrs. Burns because he was resentful about criticism from them earlier in the day.

Farmer Finds Dead Horses Worth More

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C., March 7—A "Horse Opera" in two acts, entitled "Don't Mortgage the Homestead, Use Horses," and starring a Baldonnell farmer named Chris Field, caused citizens to smile as they went about their business in town today.

Farmer Field, as a favor to a neighbor, agreed to shoot a worn-out, ailing horse and eliminate the carcass. But he had no livestock to feed the horsemeat to and frozen earth made digging impossible.

Here is where the plot takes on a new angle. Field set traps around the carcass. Later he discovered he had netted himself seven coyotes, two wolves and five foxes: One silver, one cross and three reds. He got a $20 bounty on the wolves, and $13.30 each for the pelts. The coyotes brought $7.50 each and the foxes averaged $15. One coyote was taken care of by a wolf in an adjoining trap; total proceeds, $145.10, or an advance of $140 on the usual price slaughter houses allow for a horse carcass.

Field is now wondering how he'd make out if he killed his own horses and set traps around them, instead of feeding them all winter and buying harness for them in the spring.

tions, ordered you in 1942 to establish close contact with U.S. Naval Attache Earle in Istanbul, who was former U.S. minister to Sofia and considered as confidential representative to Roosevelt, in order to establish if, and under which conditions, Germany could obtain peace?"

There was no indication in Papen's statement whether Lersner actually put the inquiry to Earle, or of any answer received.

PAPEN CLAIMED also that in 1942 he arranged for Lersner to visit the Vatican and seek mediation efforts by Cardinal Maglione, then papal secretary of state, and Bishop Montini.

Lersner also could testify, the ambassador claimed, that Papen submitted a memorandum to Hitler in May, 1939, stating that any war must be regarded as lost from the outset because Turkey had joined the coalition of Germany's potential enemies, making the British position in the Middle East unassailable.

Papen stated that he had attempted to organize a right-wing coalition to prevent Hitler from gaining overwhelming power. He said that the order issued to him in 1933 to form a government under Hitler was on President Paul Von Hindenberg's initiative.

Papen asked 14 defence witnesses, including Admiral Nicholas Horthy, former regent of Hungary. He asked permission to request an affidavit from King Gustav of Sweden to show that Papen opposed German aggression.

ALBERT SPEER, Nazi armaments boss, asked written interrogation of 22 witnesses to prove that he plotted to turn Heinrich Himmler over to the Allied high command and end the war with a radio announcement last April 21 after learning that Hitler planned suicide.

Constantin von Neurath, former protector of Bohemia and Moravia, requested 14 witnesses and a deposition from Lord Halifax to prove that Halifax told Hitler in 1937 that Britain did not oppose the Austrian anschluss.

Speer also submitted a defence brief claiming he had tried to persuade Hitler to make peace and that he had even participated in two assassination plots against the Fuehrer.

SPEER SAID he wrote Hitler in July, August and November, 1944, urging him to cease fighting because Allied air attacks had crippled German production.

He said he wrote a final letter on Jan. 30, 1945, warning Hitler that Germany's economic collapse was inevitable. The Fuehrer, he said, told him as late as March 19, 1945, that he "decided to pay no regard to the continued existence of the German people because if the war was lost they had lost all right to existence."

Strike Averted

in two big brotherhoods, scheduled for Monday.

Nearly 300,000 members of the brotherhoods of Railroad Trainmen and Locomotive Engineers have been ordered to quit work starting Monday through Thursday. Presidential appointment of an emergency board to consider the wage dispute would postpone the strike from 30 to 60 days while it studies the dispute.

At the Brotherhood headquarters in Cleveland, however, officials went ahead with detailed preparations for the walkout. Plans call for halting of service on 112 railroads on Monday, 85 on Tuesday, 91 on Wednesday and 96 on Thursday.

NEGOTIATIONS IN THE General Motors strike remained deadlocked as the Detroit city council appealed to President Truman to intervene in an attempt to end the 107-day work stoppage.

No other major developments were reported on the labor front as some 800,000 remained idle because of continuing labor disputes.

British House

the humiliation of what now is going on in Washington."

HE WAS REFERRING to the proposed $3,750,000,000 United States loan to Britain which now is before Congress for approval.

Mr. Attlee replied that there was a difference between loans in the sterling and dollar areas.

Anthony Eden, acting leader of the Conservative opposition, rose as the prime minister had finished and said as far as the opposition could see, it was a satisfactory arrangement which, while carrying obvious economic advantages to the United Kingdom, would in the long run prove equally beneficial to Canada.

APPLAUSE in the house came as soon as Mr. Attlee mentioned the amount of the loan and there was no comment in the house on the interest rate of two per cent.

In London financial circles, however, there was some feeling that the two per cent interest rate was not as favorable as Britain would have wished.

"Two per cent interest is not entirely what the British negotiators would have wanted," one informant said. "However, it must be recognized that is a matter for the lending government—and Canada could not be wholly uninfluenced by events farther south.

"ON THE WHOLE, I think the Canadian loan is a good, business-like and sound arrangement in the mutual interest of the two countries."

The main purpose of the loan would be to finance British purchases in Canada. The loan total was a "joint shot at what probably will be needed by Britain" during the next five years. The effective interest rate, taking into consideration that interest payments do not become effective immediately, is 1.62 per cent.

Reds Block Path Of Iran Troops

TEHRAN, March 7.—(AP)—The Iranian war ministry said last night that Iranian troops had "been stopped by the Russians" 60 miles east of Tehran as they moved in to garrison three eastern towns which Soviet officials had said they were evacuating last Saturday. No further details were given.

"The Soviet troops have prevented them from proceeding to the points to which they were assigned," a war ministry official said. "We are awaiting further word from the commanding officer."

AT THE SAME TIME a message from Iran's premier, Ahmed Qavam Es Saltaneh, now in Moscow, declared he would not accept any Soviet demands contrary to Iran's interests. He said he would protest orally to Premier Stalin himself on Russia's delay in evacuating the country.

Speed Return Air Force Men From Overseas

OTTAWA, March 7—(CP)—The RCAF Air Transport Base at Down Ampney, Gloucestershire, England, will be closed next month, releasing about 1,500 air force personnel from the 10,000-man RCAF occupation force for repatriation by the end of April, Air Minister Gibson announced today.

CLOSING OF THE Down Ampney base, where 800 ground crew personnel went on a two-day sitdown strike last month in protest against repatriation grievances, resulted from a 40 per cent reduction of the aircraft of No. 436 and 437 Squadrons.

The reduction approved by the British Air Ministry, will begin April 1 and will enable both squadrons to be based at Odiham, Hampshire.

Together with the disbandment of No. 435 transport squadron, already announced, the reductions will make 1,500 personnel — including both air and ground crew—available for repatriation by the end of next month. Repatriation will be carried out as quickly as shipping becomes available.

FOLLOWING HIS visit to air force units overseas in January, Col. Gibson announced the RCAF contribution to the occupation force would begin to withdraw June 30. Since then, a review of all overseas establishments was undertaken to ensure that only the minimum number required would be retained outside Canada, the minister's statement said.

About 250 RCAF personnel, including 40 members of the women's division, will sail from Halifax in a few days to replace high priority personnel.

10,000,000 in Reich Facing Starvation

BERLIN, March 7.—(BUP)—Lt.-Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, deputy British military governor, admitted today that 10,000,000 Germans, or about half the non-farming population in the British zone, were on near starvation rations now and warned of widespread starvation threats in the next three months.

ROBERTSON TOLD a press conference that British occupation authorities had been advised they could expect no food imports for the German population between the end of March and the end of June.

"April, May and June will be critical months," Robertson said. "Something must be done."

When a correspondent asked if three months was enough time to produce widespread starvation, Robertson answered:

"Yes, in certain areas."

The British drastically slashed all rations last Monday, reducing normal consumers to 1,014 calories a day.

Spain Retaliates For French Move

MADRID, March 7—(AP)—The Spanish government, retaliating for the French action in closing the French-Spanish border, last night barred French nationals from Spain and her possessions and prohibited Spaniards from entering any French territory.

In announcing regulations governing the closing of the border, which was made effective from the French side March 1, the Spanish foreign office also prohibited foreigners travelling from France and her territories from disembarking from vessels while stopping in Spanish ports.

THE REGULATIONS also barred all exchange of merchandise between France and Spain.

The regulations made exception only for diplomatic consular officials, diplomatic couriers, representatives of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration and the Red Cross.

In the other two matches British Columbia will meet Saskatchewan and New Brunswick plays Nova Scotia.

The all-important Manitoba-British Columbia match was the magnet of attraction in the morning play played before a large gallery.

MANITOBA HAD a fine chance for a five-ender in the final. Four of their rocks were in the house against two for B.C. He took careful aim but the shot was a fraction wide and struck a stone on the way through the port giving him only three.

Truman Reaffirms Faith in UNO Body

COLUMBUS, O., March 7.—(AP) —President Truman reaffirmed yesterday the United States' stout support of the United Nations charter before an assemblage of church leaders to whom he also appealed for support of his domestic legislative program. Mr. Truman told Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America:

"The United States expects to support that charter.

"It expects to defend that charter. It expects to expand and perfect that charter. And we are confident that all the other United ations expect to do the same."

THE PRESIDENT ALSO took occasion to remark that "certain interests" were so "greedy for gold" that they were lobbying to defeat his domestic legislative program.

The president told the church delegates that if the people "really believed in the brotherhood of man," it would "not be necessary" to seek a bill creating a permanent fair employment practices commission to prevent racial and other discrimination in job giving.

U.S. Railway Strike Will Affect Canada

TORONTO, March 7. — (CP) — Canadian railways will be "definitely affected" if the country-wide strike of 300,000 railway engineers and trainmen is called for Monday in the United States, railway officials said yesterday.

One result, they said, would be the tieing up of Canadian equipment—mainly fregiht cars—in the United States, which would be "marooned" there.

R. G. Smith, chairman of a local of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers (AFL), said United States brotherhoods would call on Canadian affiliates to strike, but such action would first be referred to a strike vote by Canadian members.

MR. SMYTH ADDED that a new agreement, which called for an increase of 58 cents a 100 miles, was signed last spring and described relaitons with Canadian companies as "very good."

Food importers said they thought main effect of a railways strike in the U.S. would be on citrus fruit imports but would effect few other food supplies as Canada was 80 to 85 per cent self-sufficient.

Meanwhile, E. R. Lockyer, secretary of the Toronto coal exchange, said "we are depending on daily arrivals of coal from the U.S. At least 97 per cent of our supplies come from the U.S. and this would be entirely cut off by a railroad strike."

U.S. Battleship Going to Turkey

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP) —The 45,000-ton battleship Missouri, symbol of victory over Japan, was assigned yesterday to visit Turkey and several Mediterranean ports.

Its mission is one into which any who cares to do so can read political significance in the light of Russian moves in the eastern Mediterranean. But the state department said that "there are no political implications."

THE MIGHTY BATTLESHIP, on which the Japanese signed their surrender, will leave New York March 21 to bear to Istanbul the body of Mehmet Munir Ertegun, Turkish ambassador who died at his post here in November, 1944. The mission is one for which precedent would dictate the use of a cruiser.

Returning from Istanbul, the Missouri, escorted by the destroyer Power, will call at the Greek port of Piraeus and the politically less critical ports of Alexandria, Naples, and Tangier.

Some diplomatic authorities said that whether it was intended so or not the trip to Turkey and Greece unquestionably would have diplomatic meaning to the extent that it serves as a reminder of the sea power and military strength of the United States—strength which secretary Byrnes said his government would use to back up the principles of the United Nations charter.

Man from Kingston Might Be Suspect In Espionage Case

KINGSTON, Ont., March 7—(CP) —It became known last night that the RCMP have taken a well-known Kingston man into custody but have refused all information regarding the action, saying that any statement would have to come from the commissioner of the RCMP in Ottawa.

Queried as to the disappearance of a certain individual in Kingston the RCMP said only that they "knew of" this man.

Beyond that they would not go and there was immediate speculation that the man was taken into custody in connection with the Canadian government's inquiry into Russian espionage in Canada.

Russian - Iranian Negotiations End

By HENRY SHAPIRO

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

MOSCOW, March 7. — (BUP) — Premier Ahmed Ghavam of Iran took off for Tehran today to report to his government and parliament on his long negotiations with Premier Stalin and Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov.

Ghavam and his party were given a ceremonious send-off by the Russians. Molotov and other ranking members of the government saw them off, as did representatives of the American and British embassies.

THE IRANIANS were given a military honor guard for the formalities of their departure.

Nothing was made public regarding the Soviet-Iranian discussions here, which were held against a backdrop of the passing of the treaty deadline for withdrawal of foreign troops from Iran and a Soviet announcement that the Red Army would keep forces in some parts of the country.

Ghavam concluded his talks without reaching a formal agreement on any issues.

Say Iran Problem Might Go Before Meeting of UNO

LONDON, March 7.—(CP)—Informed sources said last night they believed Russia's failure to withdraw all her troops from Iran would result in a request from some country—perhaps Iran herself—for an immediate report to the United Nations Security Council on the Soviet-Iranian negotiations.

Some diplomats expressed belief Moscow would delay replying to Britain's request for an explanation and would report direct to the Security Council when it meets in New York March 21.

Under the Security Council decision last month, Russia and Iran agreed to report the results of their negotiations. At the same time, the Security Council retained the right to ask for progress reports at any time.

No One Killed In Extensive Delhi Rioting

NEW DELHI, March 7.—(CP)— An official announcement said tonight that no one was killed in extensive riots in old Delhi today but that six persons had been injured. Earlier reports had said five had been killed when police fired on crowds demonstrating against victory week celebrations here.

As a result of the disorders police were ordered to fire on anyone found destroying public property and old Delhi was placed under curfew.

A CURFEW has been imposed on old Delhi from 9 p.m. to 5 a.m., British authorities announced.

Gurkha troops were called out to help preserve order following the demonstrations.

No disorders were reported in New Delhi as a parade of 15,000 Allied troops moved through the capital, but in the old city two miles away the crowd set fire to the rambling, one-storey townhall housing the municipal offices and stoned a canteen.

TRAMWAY and municipal workers stopped work and demonstrators tore down at least one of a number of victory arches which had been erected along the route of the parade.

An electric-sub-station and a tax office opposite the main railway station were set afire by a crowd composed largely of striking millworkers and students.

Commissioner Named to Probe Press Dispute

OTTAWA, March 7.—(CP)—Appointment of William D. Card of Portage La Prairie, Man., as an industrial disputes inquiry commissioner to investigate a dispute between the International Typographical Union (AFL) and the Winnipeg Tribune and Winnipeg Free Press was announced yesterday by Labor Minister Mitchell.

THE DISPUTE affects about 120 printers involved in a work stoppage since last Nov. 8, when negotiations between the union and company became deadlocked on arbitration procedure to be included in an agreement. The publishers announced Jan. 3 that negotiations had ended two weeks previously and no further meetings would be held with union officials. Dismissal notices were then sent to the printers and new composing room employees were engaged.

Yesterday's announcement said that should Mr. Card be unable to effect a settlement he would make specific recommendations to the minister on means of dealing with the situation. The appointment was made on recommendation of Chief Justice E. A. McPherson of Manitoba and under authority of an order-in-council which says commissioners may be named to investigate any situation which, in the opinion of the minister, appears to be detrimental to the most effective utilization of labor in the transition to a peace-time economy.

THE WINNIPEG dispute was investigated last fall by Mr. Justice W. J. Major of Winnipeg who also acted as an industrial disputes inquiry commissioner, but no settlement was reached.

London Voting for County Councillors

LONDON, March 7—(CP)—London's millions vote today for their own parliament—the London county council of 124 councillors whose power extends over 117 square miles of the Empire metropolis. Labor, with a majority of seats on the present council, which has existed since 1937 due to a wartime halt to local elections, hopes for a return with an enhanced majority. In all, 240 candidates seek election—including 118 labor representatives and 100 Conservatives.

NAVY BEAT ARMY IN MUSKOX TREK BEARD CONTEST

BAKER LAKE, NWT, March 7—(CP)—The navy beat the army in exercise Muskox beard growing contest. The champion is Lieut. P. P. Croal of Port Arthur who beat out Lt.-Col. G. W. Rowley of Ottawa, commander of the advance force which prepared the air strip at Baker Lake.

Beauty and length were the winning qualifications. The judge was Mrs. King-Id-Uack, an Eskimo housewife of the trading-post settlement.

She liked the soft quality of Lieut. Croal's beard, but explained: "I don't like beards. They tickle.

Amnesia Victim Is Identified by RCAF Records

VANCOUVER, March 7—(CP)—Western Air Command officials said yesterday that a young man reported to be an amnesia victim has been identified as F. S. Coolin, a member of the RCAF.

The command press relations officer refused to say where Coolin enlisted and declined comment beyond saying that service police are investigating.

Earlier reports obtained from civilian police said Coolin was picked up in a church rectory. He said he was an amnesia victim and was searching the honor roll for his name.

German Cardinal Get's Pope's Praise

VATICAN CITY, March 7—(AP)—Pope Pius yesterday praised Michael Cardinal von Faulhaber, Archbishop of Munich, in a Pontifical letter for his "defence of the church in Germany" in recent years. The letter, written in Latin, was addressed to the prelate on the occasion of the 25th anniversary of his elevation to the cardinalate.

government outstanding as at Feb. 28.

In return, the Canadian government will cancel all its outstanding claims on the United Kingdom not otherwise dealt with, including the cost of food and other supplies delivered to the United Kingdom between VJ-Day and end of February.

The amount involved in the cancellations were not dsiclosed, but Mr. King said the text of the agreements will be published shortly. The agreements are subject to ratification by the British and Canadian parliaments.

CANADA AGREED that the interest-free loan made in 1942 should continue under those conditions until 1951.

"Before that date the two governments will discuss how they are to treat the service and repayment of any balance of the loan still outstanding," said Mr. King.

"The two governments have agreed to accord to each other, both in regard to exchange controls and import restrictions, treatment not less favorable than that provided for in any agreement which either of them has made with the government of any other country.

"THE IMMEDIATE purpose of the agreement is to enable the United Kingdom to overcome her temporary financial difficulties in purchasing from Canada. The agreement will also contribute to the steady development of trade between the two countries, the removal of trade barriers and the free use of currencies for international trade."

The agreement for the loan from Canada was signed yesterday shortly before Finance Minister Ilsley and his chief assistants left for Savannah, Ga., to attend meetings of the international organizations set up under the Bretton Woods monetary agreements.

ANNOUNCEMENT on details of the agreement was delayed to permit simultaneous announcements in Ottawa and London.

Signing of the agreement ended negotiations which had been under way since Feb. 11.

Pioneer Catholic Sister Is Dead

CALGARY, March 7—(CP)—Pioneer sister in the Roman Catholic Church in western Canada Sister Casilda (Marguerite Schoffen) 88, died in a Calgary hospital yesterday. She was a member of the Sisters of Providence at Lacombe Home in Midnapore. Born in Minnesota, Sister Casilda came from there to the Kootenay Indian schools in 1896. Later she moved to St. Joseph's school for Indian children in Cluny where she was Sister Superior for many years. In 1925 she went to the Lacombe home. Some years later she went to St. Genevieve's Orphanage in New Westminster. Sister Casilda celebrated her diamond jubilee in the sisterhood two years ago.

Arena Capacity

that the alterations would be made as speedily as possible.

THE AMENDING CLAUSE of the bylaw provides that police patrols and a fire engine and crew would be maintained in and around the arena during all games.

Alderman Sidney Parsons said the first duty of council was to maintain the safety of the patrons of the arena. He said he was in favor of maintaining the present fire bylaw, but would support an amendment if certain structural alterations were made to provide more space at the north and south exits.

Ald. Sidney Bowcott, supporting the amendment, said there was no reason to get greatly excited about the number of patrons to be permitted into the arena for hockey games. He recalled that for 25 years there have been overflow crowds attending hockey matches, and in that time there has not been a single fire during or following any hockey game. There were no complaints then about fire danger, he said. He added that fire precautions could be taken, and police and firemen would keep standing room patrons out of the seat aisles.

Ald. C. E. Garlepy, KC, favored the amendment, but was of the opinion there should be a limit to the number permitted into the rink. He suggested 6,000.

ALD. J. M. DOUGLAS, supporting the amendment, said there was little danger of injury to patrons through fire, but there might be through panic. He said that panic could be controlled through police and firemen's patrols.

Mayor Harry Ainlay told aldermen that some Allan cup and other provincial games will be played here, but the prices will have to be increased if the present bylaw regulations continue. He said there was a grave possibility the city would be passed over if increased attendance in the arena was not permitted.

Ald. Fred J. Mitchell said that measures would be taken to improve the exits from the arena, and proper exits will be provided as soon as possible. He said that complaints had been received of the overcrowding because patrols had failed to keep standing room patrons from sitting in the aisles, and also had failed to stop patrons from smoking.

HE SUGGESTED ALSO that a definite plan be drawn for the evacuation of patrons from the building in case of fire, and that patrons be made acquainted with the plan.

M. C. Dewar, city architect, made suggestions for structural changes which would help the situation. He said that the present exits were not sufficient to permit evacuation of the crowd as speedily as fire regulation requirements demanded. He said there should be more corridor space in the vicinity of the penalty box area, and also a further outside fire escape.

Fire Chief James A. Macgregor told council that the main danger of fire in the arena was from the concession stands, and not from the portion occupied by patrons. He also said a danger was damage to the ammonia plant which would prove a very nasty proposition to handle, and also might lead to some injury to patrons.

HE SAID THERE was little danger of a fire getting a hold on the arena building with the present precautions taken by the fire department. He told aldermen that he had several off-shift firemen at the arena on Tuesday night to patrol the crowd to prevent smoking and patrons sitting in the aisles.

Ald. J. R. Munro was prepared to support the amendment to the bylaw if the aisles were kept clear, and extra exits were provided as speedily as possible. He also wanted adequate police and firemen supervision, and a definite limit to the number of "standing room" tickets sold.

City Commissioner R. J. Gibb told aldermen that changes in the arena were contemplated to bring the building into conformity with existing fire regulations, but these changes could not be effected at present. Some minor changes might be made to some of the existing exits to make egress from the building more easy.

THE CITY COMMISSIONERS reported that during the season a number of complaints have been received about spectators sitting in and blocking the aisles in the Arena when hockey games are played. These complaints became so numerous that Fire Marshall Jack Booth ordered the Edmonton Exhibition Association's management to conform strictly with the terms of the fire bylaw, and stop selling standing room tickets.

This resulted in many patrons, who have supported the games throughout the season, being unable to get into the building, with resulting dissatisfaction. There was also a resulting loss of revenue which affects the management and the team.

They reported that the building inspector "informs us that the existing exits to the Arena are not large enough to accommodate any more than the seating accommodation, according to standard regulation governing the number and width of exits. There are other details also which do not conform to the bylaw."

THE COMMISSIONERS in their reports to council said, "the Exhibition Association and your commissioners feel there are certain extenuating circumstances at the Arena which would warrant a modification of the fire bylaw as applied to that building. These circumstances are the large cubic space, the large unoccupied space on the playing area, and the fact that a fire engine with a crew of men are actually stationed within the building.

"Shocked at Appearance"

Woman Protests Treatment Of Husband in Spy Inquiry

OTTAWA, March 7.—(CP)—The wife of a man being detained in connection with the Royal Commission inquiry into Soviet espionage last night issued a written statement protesting the manner in which she said he was being treated.

PERMITTED TO SEE her husband last Monday, she said she was "shocked" at his loss of weight, his shaking hands and "pale and haggard" face after 18 days of detention.

She said "parts of statements" made by the commission in its interim report and by Assistant Commissioner Royal Gagnon of the RCMP "do not correspond with the facts as I know them." She quoted part of letters received from her husband to support her view.

One letter said he had been questioned three times—Feb. 16, 19 and 25— and once "expressed doubt" he "should continue to co-operate" as a protest against what he considered "irregular proceedings."

THE STATEMENT QUOTED an earlier letter, received Feb. 25, as saying "as far as I know, no charge has been placed against me . . . but I don't know . . . I have tried to co-operate in every way in spite of being given a nebulous idea of the problem."

The statement concluded with a demand that she be permitted to see her husband immediately "so that I may give him the little comfort which he sorely needs at this time" and that he be allowed to have legal counsel.

Her statement said in part:

"I quote from a letter written on Feb. 28 from my husband . . .—

"'I HAVE REPEATEDLY asked for the order-in-council, the last time on Monday last, but have been refused. I have repeatedly complained about not seeing newspapers that everyone else in Canada can see but have been refused. I was told the others were not getting them and in any case there was very little about the case. I was then told a few things that had been published, apparently what they saw fit to tell me.

"'I was told something about a Russian statement on the case. I was told that counsel for the royal commission had reported on Saturday and that on the basis of their report Mr. King had issued a statement saying that it was more than ever evident that proceedings should be secret.

"'I lodged a formal protest against what I considered irregular proceedings and expressed doubt whether I should continue to cooperate under the circumstances. I was told that it ill behooved me to criticise the commission on which sat two justices of the Supreme Court of Canada. That was news to me and I said so. But even so I said, and with all due respect to the eminent judges, on the basis of the little I knew, they could still be wrong. . . .'"

Council Permits Hostel to Stay On Present Site

City council, at a special meeting Wednesday, decided to permit the United States army hostel building, immediately north of the courthouse to remain on its present site until the property is required for construction purposes.

COUNCIL ALSO empowered the city commissioners to negotiate for its use as a recreation centre. Mayor Harry Ainlay reported to aldermen that the Dominion government, through W. H. Ross, Alberta director of vocational training, was seeking the use of the building. He said that conferences were proceeding with Mr. Ross, and it was probable that an agreement would be reached under which the Dominion government would utilize the building during the day period, with the city having use of it for evening activities.

UNDER THE TERMS of the agreement with the city, the Dominion government undertook to remove the building for the site within one year after the close of hostilities. It was decided by council Wednesday to renew tenure on the property from year to year until the land is needed for building purposes.

Council's finance committee Wednesday recommended that a parcel of land in the Connor's estate be removed from park land reservation list, and instructed the city commissioners to bring in a report on bids made for the purchase of this and other property adjacent to it by the George Prudham Construction Co., and Nu-West Homes Ltd.

BOTH COMPANIES, members of the committee were told, are desirous of developing the property as a residential area.

Scarcity and Production

Never in the history of the world has there been so much money in circulation among the people of the victorious nations. Seldom in the history of the world has there been such a universal scarcity of food, clothing and shelter.

The world is rich in currency. The world is disastrously poor in the real things of life.

In Vancouver, desperate war veterans have seized a former luxury hotel because they had no place to live.

In the United States and Canada, the wheat pile is coming to an end. In the former country, a new type of bread which utilizes a greater part of the wheat grain is going on the market in order to conserve wheat. In England, where bread was never rationed during the war, plans are being made to ration it now.

Canada's housing shortage is tragic. Literally tens of thousands of families have only the meanest and most primitive kind of makeshift shelter. And yet Canada is a country with all sorts of potential building materials. But shortsighted national planning and unworkable housing legislation designed to protect the interests of the loan companies, but disregarding the interests of 80 percent of the population who, receiving less than $2,150 a year, can pay no more rent than $18 to $25 a month, have failed to remedy the situation.

This present world situation in which a plenitude of money exists alongside a tragic scarcity of goods affords a most striking illustration of the fundamental economic fact that money is not wealth.

Money's only real value is its convertibility into goods and services, especially goods, and when the supply of goods runs short, money declines in value. Money is only useful for what it can buy and if there is nothing to buy, money has no use.

There is only one remedy for the great scarcity of goods with which the world is faced. And that is the production of more goods from land and sea. There is only one road to recovery. And that is through constant and uninterrupted work which increases the flow of real wealth from natural resources.

Yet production is becoming a forgotten word in Canada. We continue to talk in terms of money instead of in terms of the amount of goods that can be made available. We continue giving loans to other nations, which are simply claims on our dwindling supply of commodities, whole production steadily declines throughout the country.

What is required in Canada is an immediate and urgent call for maximum production and for the eradication of those factors and forces which operate against maximum production.

The food, clothing and shelter crisis is acute. That crisis was met in wartime by miracles of production. Only production can end it in peacetime.

Only production and more production can relieve world scarcity and facilitate recovery.

Preventive Action Now

One thing Mr. Churchill said at Fulton, Mo., should shock every unthinking person on this continent out of fond dreams of a self-preserving peace.

World War II should have been prevented, in fact few wars could have been so easily prevented; that was the forthright declaration of Britain's wartime Prime Minister, and the man who spent thankless years before that in trying to rouse the nations to preventive action. This puts the blame squarely where it belongs—leaving to each nation and each public man the duty of deciding what share of the blame falls upon it or him.

World War II could have been prevented if the victor nations had given the German people a decent chance to pay reparations and make a living; if the English-speaking countries had stood solidly in support of the League of Nations; and if Hitler's bluff had been called when he invaded the Rhineland.

None of these things was done. The nations banged their doors against German trade, while demanding that Germany pay $53,000,000,000 reparations in gold it didn't have and couldn't get. They let the League deteriorate from the status of an international authority to a debating society. And they let Hitler march a skeleton army into the great west German arsenal and take possession of it without firing a shot. What followed they had a right to expect, but persisted in refusing to do anything about.

This tragic chapter in modern history was not recalled for no purpose. Mr. Churchill made it the basis for a plea that the English-speaking nations do not repeat the folly of thinking that clouds do not predict a storm. In particular he urged that they arrive during this present year at a clear understanding with Russia; that they find out what exactly are Russia's territorial claims; and whether Moscow intends to refrain from interfering in the affairs of other states, or means to maintain fifth-columns of agents and agitators to spread its doctrines abroad.

Mr. Byrnes and Mr. Bevin have already moved in this direction, by asking Moscow what are its plans in Manchuria and in Iran. They should get full and active support in the United Nations and out, not only in pressing these enquiries but in broadening them into an effort to get all the cards put on the table and thus bring Russia and the democracies into confidence and co-operation.

That way lies harmony. The other way lies the wilderness of dreams and hopes and guesses, in which the peace-keeping nations wandered until Hitler loosed his blitzkriegs upon them.

Who is to Pay?

Who is to pay when a student at the provincial University gets hurt in a "hazing" ceremony? This sometimes happens, though not often. That is a question with which the members of the legislature have been wrestling. Hitherto the University has been financially responsible. The proposal is that this liability be shifted to the "hazers".

Who ought to pay is clear enough. The boy or boys who cause the injury should foot the hospital and medical bills of the victim, and liquidate any claims for damages. But the matter is not just as simple as that.

Sometimes it is difficult to find out definitely who did what while one of these exciting affairs is in progress. Sometimes the party to blame for an injury may be under age, therefore not accountable in law. Sometimes the blame may fall upon some one who has little or no means.

But the one thing clear is that an injured student should not have to pay his own bills. Nor should he have to hire a lawyer to find out who is going to do the paying. The responsibility should be fixed, and it should be known clearly where this accountability lies.

That would seem to be the point from which to approach the subject—the point of view of the boy who has suffered injury. From his stand-point the most satisfactory arrangement no doubt is that the University should pay. It could then proceed to collect from the party or parties who caused the injury if collection is possible. Where collection is not possible, it is better that the University, and not the unfortunate student, should stand the loss.

Money isn't everything. Thieves who raided a Winnipeg meat store picked up all the roasts and chops they could carry away. They also took what cash they could find of course—to buy more roasts and chops, etc.

Russia wants to borrow a billion dollars in the United States. In more exact terms, wants to buy a billion dollars' worth of machinery and other products in that country. The state department says the request got lost for six months in the litter on the official desk. Laid aside, perhaps, until it could be seen whether labor and capital were going to produce goods or just deadlocks.

· Premier Garson of Manitoba says he expects the shortage of building materials in Canada will be overcome by next fall. That is to be hoped, but is not altogether free from doubts. If anything like the amount of building planned for next summer is carried through, the mills and factories will have to work as fast as they did in wartime to fill the orders.

Soviets' Policy Is Becoming Clear—

What is Russia Up To?

Seeks to Capture and Integrate All Eastern Europe Into Its Own Economic and Power Complex by Whatever Bloodless Means, and Finally to Make Strong Bid for Far Eastern Dominance.

By Dorothy Thompson

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

In U.S. Senator Vandenberg's speech he asked, "What is Russia up to?" He asserted, "Russia is a mystery." But what the Soviet Union is up to has been increasingly clear ever since the Yalta conference. It is up to realizing, as far as possible, its aims since the 1918 revolution: the undermining or overthrow of every other social order and unification of the world under the Red Star.

Dorothy Thompson

During the war we had many reasons for believing that Stalin, for the sake of enduring friendly relations between the great powers, had either abandoned that aim or was prepared to leave its fulfillment to history without active assistance of the USSR. After the attack on Russia Stalin declared his allegiance to the Atlantic Charter. The Third International was formally dissolved and Communist parties everywhere readjusted their previous line. Mr. Litvinov, in a speech in New York, envisioned a postwar reconciliation between the Communist and Capitalist world through mutual modifications of program.

Hopes were encouraged that the 1937 constitution would be put into real practice in Russia and the Russian peoples extended as a reward for their unexampled sacrifices, the civil liberties which were the fruit of the western eighteenth century revolutions. Most prognosticators anticipated a general postwar turn to the left, with forms and degrees of Socialism compatible with the circumstances and majority opinion of the various countries.

WHATEVER suspicions the Soviets might previously have entertained were removed, we thought, by the demonstrations of utter fidelity with which Britain and the United States observed the coalition.

These, among many other things, included the immediate British rejection of the Hess mission, offering to guarantee the British Empire in return for benevolent neutrality toward a war against Russia—a reversal of the up to then Russian role; they included shipments of lend-lease with absolutely no strings attached, amounting to $9 billion or a quarter of the Soviet war budget. They included unreciprocated visits of British and American statesmen to Soviet or Soviet-occupied territory, each attended by serious wartime dangers, the last made when the Soviets were aware of President Roosevelt's precarious state of health. They included yielding on the matter of territorial gains made by Stalin during his pact with Hitler. And they included official silence on a great number of worrisome difficulties in relations.

All questions of prestige were laid aside in an effort to dispel Soviet "distrust." However sinister the Munich pact may have seemed to Russia, it was certainly more than cancelled by the Russo-German pact, which gave the green-light to Hitler for the war against the West, made by the Soviets for nearly two years Hitler's silent partners, and turned Communists in all countries fighting Hitler into defeatists and saboteurs.

BUT BY THE late winter of 1944, when it was apparent that the German armies could not longer resist, Soviet policy changed, and, after Yalta, obviously. No one not politically deaf, dumb, and blind, or utterly ignorant of Soviet and Comintern history, could deny the evidence.

Soviet policy, proceeding without effective opposition, was to capture and integrate into its own economic and power complex Eastern Europe from the Baltic to the Adriatic, either by annexation, Quisling governments, or popular front governments without effective guarantees for the equal participation of non-Communist parties.

Soviet policy was to enter the Far Eastern war at the last moment and play for a dominant position in the Far East.

Soviet policy was to disintegrate western Europe, beginning with Germany, in order to lay it open to revolutionary conquest when the German and European standard of living should have fallen to a sub-Balkan level.

Soviet policy was to divide the United States from Britain by reviving the slogan of the Russo-German pact, of the war for imperialism, work for the collapse of the European Far Eastern empires and fall heir to their disintegrating parts.

Soviet policy was to put Russia in such a position in Iran and Turkey as to bring pressures on the Middle East to which weak governments would yield without any premature Soviet act of open aggression.

COMINTERN POLICY was to support such revision of the French constitution as would give France the weakest possible government.

Comintern policy was to agitate for the withdrawal of American and British troops from Europe and Asia.

Comintern policy was to fan every social disorder in non-Communist countries with a view to producing internal chaos.

In short, Soviet and Comintern policy is revealed to be the realization of Hitler's power aim, and by all of Hitler's methods short of war: to dominate the Eastern hemisphere divide Great Britain, the United States, and France, and undermine their societies from within.

And every British and American agreement contributed to its "peaceful" accomplishment, pre-eminently the insane peace of Potsdam, the visit to Canossa of Secretary Byrnes after the failure of London, and the tongue-tied dismay of American journalists fearful of rocking the boat.

There is no longer any mystery about Soviet policy. The mystery is how, step by step, American and British leadership should have made decisions or interim concessions, the probable results of which should have been obvious to any logical mind.

Hazard of Selfishness—

Are We Free?

"Wait till I get out of school," says the boy. "Wait till I have my own home," says the young man. "Wait till we throw off the tyrant's yoke," said our Revolutionary forefathers. The inference is that, if anything is wrong, it is some oppressor's fault. We ourselves will show people what is right as soon as we are free.

But facts do not support this. The boy out of school gets into as much trouble as ever—or more. The young man getting married makes the same mistakes as his father. The man who starts his own business takes the same advantage of his employees as his boss did.

FREEDOM, no matter how hard won, seems to degenerate into selfishness. And, when we carry those abuses too far, our own appetites enslave us, or conflict with other people until others step in to regulate them. Free societies of selfish people have thus alternated with regimented societies of selfish people throughout history. Idealists have always dreamed of a free society of unselfish people. But they have never achieved it. They have fought for freedom, hoping this would make men good. The truth is that we must fight for goodness before we can hope to be or stay free.

Occupied nations must see our soldiers, not just free—free to go off on a binge. They must see them free from self—free to get under the other fellow's load and fighting as hard together to make something worthwhile out of peace as they did to end the war. Then they will trust democracy. And nations which trust us can, in turn, be trusted—even with atomic bombs.

SOLDIERS WHO COME HOME, meanwhile, must see us not just free—free to shout at our children at dinner, free to say cutting things to our wives, free to walk out on our job—free to break up the homes and industries they fought for. They must find us unselfish in our freedom—free to grow into the full stature of manhood and of nationhood that God intended. Then they will not lend themselves to any scheme to undercut or overthrow democracy. Then a free society of unselfish people will at last be possible. We will be free for good because we are good enough to be free.

Blasphemy

GUELPH MERCURY

Among the characteristics of the present age, the virtue of reverence is not conspicuous. It is indeed an irreverent age. On every side one hears in ordinary conversation the name of the Deity lightly used. Persons who would be offended if they were classed as non-Christians commonly use the name of the Almighty as they use slang words and phrases. It is a vicious habit which, when contracted in early youth, is hard to get rid of. To the reverent mind, even to persons of refined taste though not of religious bent, such blasphemous talk is repellent and nauseous.

Meteorology Not Yet Perfected—

However Safe Science Has Made Air Travel, One Globe-Trotter Thinks Ground Arrangements Leave Much to Be Desired

By Randolph Churchill

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

WASHINGTON.—"If you have time to spare, you should travel by air."

This bitter jibe comes from the heart of thousands of frustrated air passengers. It took me three days, all but a few hours, to fly from London to New York in Pan American's latest Lockheed Constellation.

CHURCHILL

The exasperating delays to which air travellers are so frequently subjected are mainly due to bad weather and to fear of icing conditions, against which there seems to be no adequate remedy. Moreover, despite all the advance that was supposed to have been made during the war in predicting the weather, meteorology still seems to be an inexact science.

When we left Rineanna in Ireland, we were told we would encounter head winds up to 60 miles an hour and that it would take 11 hours to reach Gander in Newfoundland. The winds proved much less severe and we reached Gander in 8½ hours. On the other hand, we were told it would take 4½ hours to fly from Gander to New York, instead of which the trip took 6 hours and 40 minutes.

UP UNTIL HALF AN HOUR before we reached New York, reports indicated that La Guardia Airport was blanketed with fog, and we were faced with the prospect of landing in Washington instead of New York. Fortunately, the weather cleared just in time. But that this possibility should have existed belies the ballyhoo about the marvels of radar and radio control, which are supposed to make it possible to land under any circumstances at all the world's leading airports. It is clear that great advances have got to be made in this field before flying can be considered a satisfactory method of transportation.

Once you are in the air, everything is extremely well managed, and the passengers can feel the greatest confidence in the skill and courtesy of the crew. Arrangements on the ground, however, are extremely primitive and there is no doubt all the airlines have a great deal to learn in the handling of passengers.

In England, the chief difficulty arises from the fact that all trans-Atlantic flights have to start from Hurn Airport, which is more than four hours by road from London. As a consequence, if a flight has to be postponed, all passengers have to suffer the vexations of being marooned in Bournemouth. This situation cannot be overcome until London's great new airport, Heath Row, comes into service towards the end of the year. But there is no doubt an effort could be made, meanwhile, to provide better accommodation for passengers who get stranded at Hurn.

PAN-AMERICAN DO NOT themselves handle passengers in England. All arrangements for them prior to entering the aircraft are handled for Pan-American by British Overseas Airways, who act as their agents. Making all allowances for the difficulties which have to be contended with in post-war England, it must be recorded that the existing arrangements are far from satisfactory.

Bad though the ground organization is in England, it appeared to be practically non-existent at the New York end of the trans-Atlantic route. Our plane arrived at 1:20 in the morning. The U.S. government authorities — quarantine, immigration and customs—operated swiftly and efficiently. Not so, the Pan-American officials.

There were 34 passengers on our plane and, as it had taken nearly three days instead of 15 hours to fly from England, one would have expected that some arrangements would have been made to transport these unlucky passengers into New York. No transport of any kind was available. With great difficulty, a friend and myself procured a taxi and eventually got into New York at 3 a.m.

If flying is ever to become popular as a means of transportation, the airlines will have to smarten up all their ground arrangements. In particular, they should realize that hardly anyone flies because he likes to but only because he wants to reach his destination quickly. The satisfaction of flying at 250 miles an hour very rapidly wears off after kicking your heels for a couple of hours at an uncomfortable airport.

Appreciation

Editor, Bulletin—The Provincial Department of Agriculture, Extension Service, and the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, wish to express appreciation to the press for the very fine co-operation extended in announcing the Third Annual Short Course and reporting the addresses during the three-day conference.

May we also, through the medium of your publication, express appreciation to the many Edmonton business houses who co-operated, and to those who shared their knowledge through illustrated addresses and lectures.

The course attracted more than five hundred persons and the sponsors have been asked to continue the promotion of this activity.

Cut Out Personal Stuff

Editor, Bulletin: How long do we, a progressive public, have to tolerate such kindergarten prattle as carried on in the Legislature Feb. 28, report of which was published in The Bulletin March 1, which appears to be quite a personal matter between the members taking part in the so-called debate? Constructive criticism is very necessary in democratic procedure on all important legislation, but we do not elect members of the Legislature to discuss personal political views of themselves or organizations.

The electorate do not care much what shade of banner they are elected under if they have the ability to propose and enact legislation in step with, and for our national progress.

It is high time that governments cease to be merely a commercial enterprise that induces men and women into politics for only personal prestige and the remuneration larger than what they would be worth in a competitive business world on their own initiative.

We have too many such types. Cut out this personal and party stuff and devote time and ability to matters of legislative importance.

Engineers' Views

Editor, Bulletin: On reading your report on the annual U. of A. Engineers parade we were greatly surprised to find that you had printed a newsworthy item without a true representation of the facts.

As eyewitnesses we feel that the following facts should be known.

The parade, an annual event at the U. of A., is an officially sanctioned prelude to the election of officers of the Engineering Students' Society. In former years the parade has proceeded peacefully through the campus buildings and ended up with a casting of vote. Occasionally there has been a certain amount of so called boisterousness, with some resulting damage. In last Monday's parade this boisterousness started when, after an orderly parade through the Arts building, the leaders were set upon by Agriculture students intent on taking a trophy carried by one of the presidential candidates.

The parade through the Med. building proceeded with a minimum of trouble, except when water was thrown at the parade by the occupants, whereupon the rowdy Engineers retaliated with "deadly" flour bombs. Leaving the Med. building the parade was subjected to tear gas and smoke by Med. students, not Engineers, as you seem to have overheard.

At this point, the parade moved off to look for the horse which was to have been used in the parade, and was stolen by the Meds prior to the commencement of the parade. Scuffles were going on during this time when the "uninterested and unsuspecting" Ags and Meds tried to break up the parade.

The trip to Pembina was instituted by a few more eager paraders and only a small number of Engineers participated, and few actually entered the building. It is admitted that at this point a few minor mishaps occurred to the resisting occupants.

We hope that this will clear the idea put forth in your writeup, that the parade was the effort of a mob of undisciplined and uncivilized Engineering students.

Alberta District News Briefs

North Alberta Pioneer Claims 103 Descendants

MILLET.—Birthday congratulations from various parts of the province were being received this week by Anund O. Hougestol, who was 90 years old on Monday. Of Norwegian descent, he has lived in Northern Alberta since 1898.

MR. HOUGESTOL was married in 1877 to Bertha Anderson at Goodhouse County, Minn. Six months after the couple celebrated their 62nd wedding anniversary at Camrose, Mrs. Houestol died. There are 103 descendants, five sons and eight daughters, 40 grandchildren, 49 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Four direct descendants reside in this district: Mrs. J. A. McWhirter of Camrose; her daughter, Mrs. J. Johnson of Millet; her daughter, Mrs. L. George of Duhamel; and her daughter, a child of two years.

One son and seven grandsons served in uniform during the recent war.

FOLLOWING THEIR marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Hougestol moved to Wetaskiwin in 1898, homesteading at Stony Creek. Later they took land four and one-half miles east of Millet, where they lived until 1911. They moved to Lake de May in the Camrose district, for 13 years, then moving to Camrose. When Mrs. Hougestol died in 1939, Mr. Hougesol came to Millet to make his home with a son, Albert, 12 miles east of here.

Today he is hale and hearty. He is more than six feet tall and takes a keen interest in the affairs of the day. Probably his greatest interest, however, is his large family.

Form Ball Club

ALLIANCE.—Eddie Barth was elected president at an organization meeting of a ball club last week. Stewart McPherson is secretary-treasurer; club manager, R. E. Manning; coach, S. O. McLennan. Under discussion was organization of a junior ball club and purchase of suits and other equipment. A series of Saturday night dances in aid of club activities will get underway soon.

College Opens

ALLIANCE.—The Alliance business college opened last week with the schedule calling for both day and night classes. Peter Jarrett has been appointed teacher under the supervision of Mrs. M. MacKay-Knipfel of Camrose, who will conduct various tests.

Mrs. Hagen Dies

ALLIANCE.—Mrs. Lars E. Hagen, resident of this district since 1927, died in the Galahad hospital last week following a brief illness. She was born in Norway in 1888 and is survived by her husband, three stepsons, two stepdaughters and 19 grandchildren.

Probe Settlement

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE.—It is expected here that a soil survey will be made of the area north of the Frisco and Tiami districts with a view to establishing a settlement. The Board of Trade has suggested a new road to open the district, cutting through the Alder Flats settlement and extending north into the Buck Lake area. Residents believe the land would be excellent for seed grain crops.

Plaque Unveiled

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE—A plaque dedicated to the memory of men from the Beaver Flats district who served during the recent war was unveiled by members of the War Services club last week. Chairman for the ceremony was John Reid. Mrs. Agnus Martin, one of the first settlers of this district, unveiled the plaque, which listed three men killed in action, together with ten others who served. Others taking part in the ceremony, which was preceded by a banquet, were R. McCallum and F. Kirkman.

Offer Bursary

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE—A bursary of $150 will be offered to any boy or girl of the district who wishes to study under the teacher-training program of Alberta, according to a decision reached at a recent meeting of the IODE chapter. The chapter previously offered a bursary to assist nurses-in-training which was won by Gladys Beckett of Leedale, now training in an Edmonton hospital.

Form Legion Branch

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE—War veterans of the Caroline district last week organized a district branch of the Canadian Legion, with M. F. Dix as temporary president and R. Campbell, secretary. There are more than 90 veterans of two wars residing in the community.

Cadet Dinner

HANNA—Members of No. 63 Hanna squadron, Air Cadets of Canada, last week attended a dinner in the Memorial hall on the occasion of a visit from Flt. Lt. G. C. Campbell, DFC, of Calgary, Alberta air cadet officer. Speakers at the gathering included Const. J. M. Winkley, RCMP, A. W. Prime, Flt. Lt. R. G. P. Cochrane and Flt. Lt. Campbell, the latter expressing the hope that more flying would be done by cadets at summer camps this year.

'Spiel Proceeds

PEACE RIVER. — Ice was in splendid condition this week for an eight-rink round-robin contest for the North Peace curling championship and possession of the Boy Trophy. Taking part are representatives of High Prairie, McLennan, Grimshaw, Berwyn, Brownvale, Whitelaw, Fairview and Peace River.

Cold Spell Broken

PEACE RIVER.—At long last the weatherman has given this end of the country a "break" after an unbroken spell of cold weather which left two to three feet of snow on level places. One result of the snow, however, is that it will mean the end to several seasons of dry lakes and dugouts.

District Pastor

The Rev. R. D. Binning, former padre in the RCAF, who has returned to his pastorate at First United Church, Wetaskiwin, after more than four years' service in uniform. He was commissioned in June, 1941, and saw service in Brandon, Man., Dafoe, Sask., Mountain View, Ont., Rockliffe, Ont., England and Scotland, Calgary and finally, Toronto. He served overseas with the Goose, Lion and Bison squadrons.

Entertain Kinsmen

VEGREVILLE.—The local Kinsmen's Club entertained three rinks of Kinsmen members from Edmonton during the week-end. A banquet following the game was well-attended.

Third Game

VERMILION.—Third game of the Eastern Alberta Hockey League play-off this week will see the Vegreville Rangers meet Vermilion Tigers, the latter going into the match with two won games credited to their past account.

Discuss Festival

WASKATENAU. — Teachers of the Waskatenau sub-local were entertained at the home of Mrs. R. J. Elliott last week, when among those present was H. Kostash, superintendent from Smoky Lake. Plans were discussed for a festival to be held here in May. W. Parker was chairman.

Wins Challenge

ATHABASCA.—Grand challenge in the annual open bonspiel last week was won by J. W. Adair. The Athabasca open was taken by Father Rooney. Other winners included: Merchants, J. Birnie; highway competition, J. Birnie; grand aggregate, Father Rooney.

Old-Timer Dies

ASHMONT—Death took one of this district's old-timers in the person of William Smith, who farmed here for many years prior to retiring a year ago. He was 78 years old.

Drill New Well

ASHMONT—A new well is being drilled here by Paul Schmillar and son for the town's water supply. Water was found at 200 feet. If successful, the new supply will be welcomed since a water scarcity has existed here for some time.

Hawke Elected

ASHMONT.—R. J. Hawke was unanimously elected trustee by this dsitrict for the municipality of St. Paul recently. He has been trustee for the old Ashmont district for nearly 30 years, and this will be his second term with the St. Paul board. G. G. Harris has been elected chairman in the St. Paul school division. He had been previously a trustee since the formation of the larger school district two years ago.

Nazi Prisoners Help "Liberate" Snowed-In Town

PADDLESWORTH, Kent, Eng., March 7—(CP)—This village of 42 persons which had a ringside seat for the Battle of Britain was "liberated" yesterday by German prisoners of war who shovelled through 10-foot snowdrifts to reach the hamlet, isolated since last Saturday.

Food supplies were sent in but the villagers said "The lack of coal is the most serious thing."

A snowfall last week-end which blanketed southeast England blocked off all five roads leading to Paddlesworth, four miles northwest of Folkestone. Prisoners of war, British soldiers and airmen have been digging through the snow blockade since Monday to reach the hamlet, which has no shops or post office.

The nearby hamlets of Lyminge and Apringe still are cut off.

Dig-Against-Famine Program In Britain

LONDON, March 7.—(Reuters)—British farmers, gardeners and even the humble allotment amateurs are busy with the "dig-against-famine campaign.

Responding to urgent appeals of the government again to grow more food, they are working as they worked during the days of the battle of the Atlantic when every ounce of food at home was an ounce less exposed to U-boat attack.

FARMERS WHO THOUGHT to turn their lands to mere remunerative crops have abandoned dreams of larger profits and less work and are preparing to plow up their land to sow cereals as soon as the snow disappears.

The national allotments society has called upon allotment holders and small gardeners to grow £10,000,000 ($44,500,000) worth more food this year—although their contribution to the country's supplies is already estimated at between £20,000,000 and £30,000,000 annually.

Say Roosevelt Son Joins Communists

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP)—Representative John Rankin (Dem.-Miss.) told the house of representatives yesterday James Roosevelt has joined the "communists." Representative George Outland (Dem.-Calif.) promptly replied by citing the war record of the late president's son and terming him a "real American."

"It seems to me," Mr. Outland said after Mr. Rankin had spoken, "that anyone who disagrees with the gentleman from Mississippi is a communist."

MR. RANKIN QUOTED a press report that Mr. Roosevelt had become national director of political organization for the independent citizens committee of the arts, sciences and professions.

"This article," the Mississippian declared, "quotes him as assuming to speak for the Democratic party, bidding for all the left-wing Liberals and saying that 'the other side can have Bilbo and Rankin of Mississippi.'

"Poor Jimmie, he may not know it, but he no longer is in a position to speak for the Democratic party. He has now joined the communists."

Fish and Game Body Planning to Banquet Provincial Govt.

CALGARY, March 7.—(CP)—Cabinet ministers and members of the legislature for Alberta will be guests of the Alberta Fish and Game Association at a game dinner in Edmonton March 13, G. E. Watt, provincial president, announced in Calgary yesterday.

Pheasants donated by Alberta sportsmen and kept in cold storage since the shooting season will be served to the MLA's. Mr. Watt will present a review of the achievements and projects of the association.

Besides Premier Ernest Manning and other members of the government, prominent sportsmen from various parts of Alberta have been invited.

Find Penicillin On Island Beach

PORT NELSON, B.C., March 7—(CP)—A water-soaked package containing 100,000 Oxford units of penicillin was found yesterday by children walking on the beach at Wreck Bay on the west coast of Vancouver Island. The package was turned over to Mrs. Frank Doiron of Port Albion, who is keeping it in a cooler. Mrs. Doiron said the penicillin is in good condition, sealed in 17 glass containers. She has been advised to send it to the provincial health laboratories at Victoria.

Mud Slide Covers Summer Cottages

LADNER, B.C., March 7—(CP)—Spring mud rolling off a cliff side at Chewassen Beach, seven miles from here, yesterday buried two summer cottages and swamped four others. Damage is estimated at $14,000. "I think the recent earthquake unsettled the cliff and caused shifting mud," said K. R. McCann of Vancouver.

Hot Coffee Sends Man to Hospital

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 7—(AP)—Because his coffee was hot, Frank Taylor, 49, wound up in emergency hospital for lacerations of his right ear and lower lip. Taylor's coffee was so hot he choked. His false teeth turned crosswise in his mouth and cut his lip. Unnerved, he fell off his chair, struck his head against the table and cut his ear.

Heads Air Pilots

Capt. C. L. Skelding, Trans-Canada Air Lines pilot, who was elected president of the Canadian Airlines Pilots' Association at the annual meeting of the organization in Winnipeg. The Canadian organization is affiliated with the British and United States Associations and represents all commercial transport pilots in Canada. On his election, Captain Skelding said "The policy of employing RCAF pilots by the air lines of Canada is heartily endorsed by the Canadian Airlines Pilots' Association. A splendid spirit of fellowship exists between the professional air lines pilots and these veteran RCAF airmen in assisting them in their transition from military to commercial flying."

Wheat Board Costs Farmers Huge Sum

WINNIPEG, March 7.—(CP)—Operations of the Canadian wheat board were costing Manitoba farmers "huge sums" of money every crop year, John McDowell (Ind. Cons.-Iberville) said yesterday in the Manitoba legislature.

The federal parliament has been encroaching for years upon the province's jurisdiction over handling, selling and storing wheat, he said, and in his view the encroachments were not constitutional.

"RIGHTS OF THE farmers have been slowly throttled by Dominion legislation until today they have practically no rights at all," he said calling upon the Manitoba legislature, which he contended was the only authority legally competent to deal with handling of grain within the province, to assert its rights.

The legislature should remove legislation which prevented producers from getting full market prices for their grain. In Chicago wheat was selling for $2.02 Canadian funds while the Winnipeg price was held at $1.25.

No Defence Witness In Murder Hearing

WHITBY, Ont., March 7—(CP)—No defence witnesses will be called at the trial of Lorne Harris of nearby Ajax, charged with the murder of Mrs. Audrey Lyons, 23-year-old mother of two children, it was announced late yesterday.

Counsel are expected to address the Ontario supreme court jury Thursday morning. Mr. Justice J. C. McRuer is presiding.

MISS VERDA VINCENT, provincial analyst, yesterday testified that stains which examination showed were human blood were found on underwear taken from Harris on the night of his arrest.

Stains on the front, inside the garment, were positive for spermatazoa, she added.

Mrs. Lyons was found strangled in her home at Ajax, some 20 miles east of Toronto.

Uses Navy Blimp To Look for Home

ASBURY PARK, N.J., March 7—(AP)—An unidentified crew member of a navy blimp has come up with a new idea for finding a house for his family. While his blimp cruises overhead on its daily flight from Lakehurst to Sandy Hook, the sailor watches out for new houses being constructed and marks their location on a map. Then in his free time he pays a personal visit.

May Prolong Life Span

Russ Scientists Perfect Serum To Slow Advance of Old Age

By HENRY SHAPIRO
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

MOSCOW, March 7.—(BUP) — Russian scientists have perfected a rejuvenation serum which will slow the advance of old age and which, over a span of many generations, may ultimately prolong the normal human life to 100 to 150 years.

BUT DON'T THROW away that cane and light out for Moscow. Soviet biologists want it clearly understood that the fountain of youth just doesn't exist. Not yet, anyway. Their discovery is not a magical elixir of life, but a laboriously-developed serum which helps prevent bodily deterioration.

The serum, known as "Acs," preserves the connective tissue linking the body cells with the blood vessels and stimulates cellular activity, thereby improving the work of all the organs and ultimately extending the life span.

Acs already is far beyond the experimental stage and is being used clinically all over the Soviet Union. It has proved most effective in the treatment of broken bones and all kinds of wounds.

SOVIET SCIENTISTS say that children at Leningrad whose growth was stunted by the privations of the city's siege began to grow again when they were injected with the new serum.

Several prominent Moscow actors and artists, all in their sixties, are known to be taking the serum periodically with an attendant improvement in their working capacity and general fitness.

The new drug was discovered by the famous Ukrainian scientist, the 64-year-old Alexander Alexandrovitch Bogomoletz, president of the Ukrainian Academy of Scientists.

BOGOMOLETZ DEVOTED almost 20 years to a study of the possibilities of life span extension, and he has trained dozens of pupils to carry on his work in that field.

Bogomoletz published a ponderous volume on his work after the 1938 medical conference in Kiev, and before that he wrote a popular booklet on the same subject. In the booklet he developed his theory that the potential life span of the normal man and woman should be somewhere between 100 and 150 years, instead of the present 60 to 70 years.

Professor Joseph Markovitch Neyman, one of Bogomoletz' most prominent pupils, explained the workings of ACS to the United Press, carefully disclaiming and even deriding the extravagant claims made for the serum by some foreign writers.

NEYMAN EXPLAINED THAT Bogomoletz' serum was based on the theory that the body begins to age when the connective tissues wear out or deteriorate. The deterioration, in turn, is caused by bodily abuse, overwork, nervous exhaustion and improper living.

Neyman said Bogomoletz found that stimulation of the connective tissues produced a rejuvenating effect on all the bodily organs and "toned up" the patient's entire system.

He said the ACS serum is perfectly harmless so long as the patient's kidneys are normal. It improves the general metabolism, acts as a general tonic and reduces fatigue.

BUT NEYMAN, like most scientists, was extremely conservative in discussing the serum and denied that any "sensational" discoveries have yet been made toward the goal of prolonging life.

Neyman said Bogomoletz has received pathetic letters from aged people all over he world who beg him for a phial of the alleged "elixir of life."

Bogomolez regards them as "drowning men clutching at straws" and he offers all of them the same old-fashioned and conventional advice.

"If you wish a long life, live simply, civilizedly. Don't overwork, overeat or worry."

British Airline To Increase Trips

LONDON, March 7.—(CP)—The British overseas airline corporation, with a wartime record of daily trans-Atlantic service, plans to quadruple the number of its flights as soon as planes and crews are available. The new plans call for 28 flights incoming and the same number outgoing.

The government company is Britain's only entrant in the north Atlantic flying race under the Labor government's policy for nationalization of all British airways.

THE REGULAR year-round two-way ferry service operated by BOAC between Prestwick, Scotland, and Dorval airport, Montreal, will be maintained. The first expansion step will be the addition of an almost parallel daily landplane service between the United Kingdom and New York. Then both trans-Atlantic services will be doubled.

But BOAC has insufficient crews to permit immediate expansion and its planes, besides being few in number, are converted warcraft which leave much to be desired.

Australia Bans Women on Juries

NEW YORK, March 7.—(CP)—Mrs. Julia Rapke, president of the Australian League for Women Voters, says four of the six states in that country refuse to allow women on juries, and wants the ban removed, the Australian News and Information Bureau reported yesterday.

"There's NOTHING wrong with our new hats. It's the same old faces that discourage me!"

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

CITY COUNCIL'S action Wednesday night in raising the Arena crowd limit to 6,500 practically assures at least one game of the Port Arthur series for Edmonton providing of course, Flyers successfully negotiate the current playoff trail and reach the Western Canada League final.

It is understood the CAHA policy of spreading out the games will be adhered to and hence the home arena of even the loser of the league final series will not be overlooked in the ultimate allotting of dates.

In the event of Canadians winning at Nanaimo tonight, which would give the Edmonton juniors the B.C.-Alberta title, the next round in the Memorial Cup playdowns with Moose Jaw Canucks as opposition would likely be ordered to commence here on Monday next.

SASKATOON ELKS who engage Edmonton Flyers in the second of their best-of-three league semi-final here tonight, so far have been unable to knock over the Riley Mullenites on arena ice in seven attempts.

In the six scheduled league encounters here the Elks took Flyers into overtime twice before bowing out, but on their own home pond it has been much different. Edmonton was beaten three times in a row in Saskatoon, and then came a tie before Flyers made the grade for two wins.

"TRANSPORTATION and travelling costs will be no obstacle for major league hockey teams on the Pacific coast joining the present big league clubs in the east," Mervyn "Red" Dutton told Jack Delong, who had a chin with the president of the NHL at the Macdonald here yesterday.

"Red" said he was going to make a trip down to California to look over the situation when the Stanley Cup playoffs are finished, in reply to queries regarding the three bids for NHL membership from Los Angelese and one from San Francisco.

Dutton admits that some club owners are still a trifle timid about air travel, but observed that sufficient airplanes were available, "we could even send the players on different planes and still meet the schedule."

"RED" WAS THE FIRST big league manager to fly his whole team. That was in 1938 when he was mentor for the New York Americans and the flight was from Detroit to Chicago.

Major league club are experiencing the greatest season, with new attendance records being established. Asked if he thought the boom would continue, Dutton replied, "I see no reason to think it will not. After all the hockey surface is as yet only scratched." As further proof he pointed to the fact that between 35,000 and 40,000 youngsters are now playing with affiliations of the CAHA.

When big, smooth-skating Jack McDonald beat Ralph Almas for that first Flyer goal in Tuesday's series opener against Saskatoon Elks, he was even more surprised that the puck found the net than were the 5,000 or so fans in the pews.

Here's the reason for Jack's pleasant surprise, honestly confessed to team-mates and friends after the contest:

"I picked the puck off the right boards and saw Johnny Kennedy standing uncovered to the left side of the Saskatoon net. So I decided to shoot the puck past my side of the goal and have it rebound to Kennedy. I shot—and the puck ended up in the net."

Bruins Regain Third Place By Defeating Detroit 4-2

BOSTON, March 7.—(AP)—Home after losing five of six road games, Boston Bruins regained sole possession of the National Hockey League's third berth by defeating Detroit Red Wings 4-2, Wednesday night before a capacity 13,900 crowd at the Boston Garden. It was the first setback the visitors had suffered since being shut out here, 3-0, Feb. 13, nine games ago.

The victory puts the Bruins two points ahead of the Red Wings in the final drive for playoff positions. The latter, however, having five games more to play against four for the Bruins.

RANGER DEFENCE FOLDS AGAINST MONTREALERS

MONTREAL, March 7.—(CP)—The pace-setting Montreal Canadiens hammered out a 7-3 victory over the tail-end New York Rangers in a dull National Hockey League game Wednesday night before more than 11,000 fans.

The Ranger defence went to pieces in the last frame and Canucks broke through for a three-goal splurge. Only brilliant work on the part of goalie Charlie Rayner prevented a higher score. In that third period Canucks outshot the blue shirts 12-4.

St. Anthony Boys Defeat St. John's For League Title

St. Anthony's College won the Edmonton Intercollegiate hockey title Wednesday night when they ended the best-of-three final series by trimming St. John's College 6-3.

In the initial joust of the series St. John's took the bow forcing the St. Anthony pucksters to come from behind with two straight wins to cop the crown.

Guy Voisin tied the score at 3-3 when he registered for St. John's early in the closing chapter, with the help of Gerard Labrecque, but the St. Anthony sextet jumped back into the lead on a tally by Camille Surette on a pass from Alex Bazelowich. Jack Gallivan slammed in two more goals for St. Anthony's in the last five minutes of play, adding emphasis to the victory. Johnny Harrigan and Bazelowich were in on the final goals

Edmonton Juniors Turn on Power Against Clippers; Fourth Game Tonight

Canadians Blank Nanaimo 7-0 for 2nd Win

Need Only One More For Title

By GEORGE SUMMERFIELD
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

NANAIMO, March 7.—Baring a miracle or a complete reversal of form on the part of Edmonton Canadians, tonight's fourth game of the Memorial Cup junior hockey play downs should see the Albertans annex the interprovincial championship and qualify to advance into the Western Canada semi-finals against the Saskatchewan titlists.

Playing here Wednesday before 2,150 fans, Canucks defeated Nanaimo Clippers 7-0 to take a 2-1 edge on the best in five series. Five big goals in the middle panel virtually clinched the issue for the visiting icemen following a scoreless opening stanza.

CLIPPERS managed a surprise win in the series opener when they took a 4-3 verdict, with Canadians coming back to win the second contest by a 4-1 score. Should a fifth game be needed, it will be played here Saturday.

Pacing the Albertans were Bill Black, clever pivot man and Cy Thomas, left winger. Each bagged two goals, Bill Gadsby, Bill Pettinger and Ed Thomas netting the others.

THE FINAL SCORE, while not providing a conclusive picture of the game, definitely left the fans with no misunderstanding as to which was the more polished sextet.

Nanaimo played well, but not well enough to offset the smart passing and finish fronting the net. As it was, Clippers had at least a half dozen chances to sink the rubber, but were either outlucked or over-anxious.

FANS WHO HAD hoped to see Normie Kirk spark Nanaimo were disappointed. Given little opportunity by the close checking of Canadians, Norm at times looked a trifle bewildered. Working with Davey Jones and Robbie Robertson, the former San Diego senior puckster looked anything but dangerous and contributed little in the way of play making. As a matter of fact Jones succeeded in making most of the line's sporadic plays.

Canadians, but for the goaling of Bentley, might easily have run their score to double figures. With exception of one sloppy goal he allowed in the final chapter, the others were definitely ear marked. All but two of the Edmonton goals came from power plays, with Nanaimo a man short on penalties.

LINEUPS:

Edmonton — Sofiak: Gadsby, Matthews; Rypien; E. Thomas, C. Thomas. Subs—Black, Groves, Bannon, Slater, Luchini, Pettinger.

Nanaimo—Bentley; Mitchell, Magliani; Kirk; Robertson, Whitefield. Subs—Prestley, Louden, Mirtle, Koehle, Scott.

Oust Hatters on Round

Calgary Army Advances In Intermediate Series

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., March 7.—(CP) — Medicine Hat defeated the Calgary No. 13 District Depot squad 7-4 here Wednesday night in the second game of their two-game-total-goal-series in the South Alberta intermediate hockey semi-finals, but lost the round 11-9, after taking a 7-2 trimming from the Calgary squad last night.

They now play Okotoks Oilers for the right to meet Edmonton Independent All-Stars for the provincial title.

MEDICINE HAT ran up a 4-0 lead early in the second and threatened to overtake the Army club's first game five-goal advantage, but the experienced Rimstad, Hunt and Jack Quigley line went to work to bring the count to 5-3 midway through the final period. Tallying two more in the last half of the stanza and holding the Calgary club to one lone tally the Hatters were unable to knot the count and force the overtime.

Bannon, Medicine Hat custodian, collapsed with a slight heart attack with seven minutes to go and was replaced by Cleeve. His condition later was reported as good.

EAC Juniors Whip Leafs 8-4 In First of "B" Playdowns

Edmonton Athletic Club juniors broke a third period 3-3 tie with Maple Leafs in the opening tilt of a two-game total-goal northern Alberta junior "A" final series played at the Arena Wednesday night, peppering the Leaf net with a shower of pucks to hang up an 8-4 victory.

Apart from a couple of practice sessions, EAC had not played for about a month. Nearly all the goals were made on individual rushes, some of which were fancy exhibitions in themselves, but left a lot to be desired in the way of team work.

THE TEAMS meet again Friday night at the arena in the final struggle. Bob Manson gave the EAC a 1-0 start in the first period, but tallies for the Leafs from the sticks of Don Christian and Mike Thomas put their sextet out in front 2-1 at the close of the chapter.

Grant tied it up at 6:28 in the second, and with O'Neil of the EAC went in the cooler for tripping. Eric MacDonald cashed in on a breakaway. John Finley ended a mix-up in front of the EAC net by banging in the tying counter.

ERIC MACDONALD, the top scorer of the game with three tallies, put the EAC back in front early in the third frame, taking a pass from Bob Manson at the Leaf blue line and crossing in front of the goal from the right wing to whip in a neat backhand shot.

Jack Meldrum padded the lead at 6:26, and less than three minutes later MacDonald roared away on another dynamic play accompanied by Meldrum who relayed to Eric to feature on another EAC marker.

MELDRUM intercepted a Leaf pass at centre and swooped unopposed into the Maple Leaf zone, skated in on the goalie, feinted and then rapped the puck in on a backhand shot. This made the score 7-3 for EAC.

Don Benkie netted the next tally for the victors, taking a pass-out from Ron Lane and scoring with less than a minute to go.

Bob Jackson netted the last counter of the fixture at 19:19 when he rifled in a pass from Don Christian on a Maple Leaf drive.

LINEUPS:

One-Armed Bowler Rolls 450 Score

TORONTO, March 7—(CP)—A one-armed veteran of the First Great War, Bill Hendry of Toronto this week realized the bowler's dream of bowling a perfect game of 450 in a scheduled game of a Toronto five-pin circuit. His 100 per cent. score came in the last game of a three-game string.

Members of the league for the last 20 years, he boasts an average of several pins over the 200 mark and also plays a steady game of golf.

New Westminster Likely Enter BC Allan Cup Series

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., March 7—(CP)—Mayor W. M. Mott of New Westminster Wednesday called a meeting for tonight of sports-minded citizens here to discuss ways and means of obtaining money to back New Westminster Royals in their quest of the Allan Cup.

Team members, at a meeting here Tuesday night, voted unanimously in favor of entering the Canadian playdowns. The players originally had planned to leave for their homes yesterday following the end of play in the Pacific Coast Hockey League.

THE ROYALS, coached by Clarence Moher, formerly of Edmonton, finished out of the PCHL playoffs, being last in the four-team northern division.

Some time ago the New Westminster club affiliated with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and it was expected at that time that Vancouver Canucks, winners of the Northern Division, PCHL, also would affiliate.

HOWEVER, coach Paul Thompson of Canucks, announced that play-off dates in the PCHL clashed with Allan Cup dates and that Canucks would first fulfill their obligations in the Coast League.

Royals hope to arrange at least two exhibition games, possibly in Nanaimo, before they start on the cup trail against winners of the West Kootenay Senior League for the provincial championship.

NELSON, B.C., March 7.—(CP)—Kimberley Dynamiters hammered out a 2-1 victory over Nelson Maple Leafs here Wednesday night to deadlock the West Kootenay senior hockey league best-of-three semi-final series at one game each. Nelson won the opening game 4-1, Monday night.

Third game will be played here Saturday. The winner meets Trail Smoke Eaters.

Manitoba Now Holds Lead In Macdonald Brier 'Spiel

By MEL SUFRIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SASKATOON, March 7.—(CP)—Manitoba swept into undisputed leadership in the seventh round of the Macdonald's Brier bonspiel Wednesday night, defeating Saskatchewan 10-8 in a nip-and-tuck curling match while Alberta turned back Northern Ontario 8-4 and British Columbia edged out Ontario 9-8 before a crowd of 3,000.

With only two rounds remaining to play, Leo Johnson's Winnipeg Strathcona rink had won six games against a single loss. In second place were Alberta, Northern Ontario and Ontario with five victories and two defeats each.

IN OTHER SEVENTH round matches Quebec overwhelmed Nova Scotia 17-5 and New Brunswick won over the still winless Prince Edward Island entry 10-9.

British Columbia's victory brought Skip Frank Avery up to a tie with Saskatchewan's Dalt Henderson for third place with four wins in their seven games.

The rest of the field had no chance for the tankard emblematic of the Canadian curling championship. Quebec had three victories and four defeats, Nova Scotia two and five, New Brunswick one and six and Prince Edward Island an unbroken string of seven defeats.

THIS MORNING'S games pitted Manitoba against British Columbia, Northern Ontario against Ontario, Saskatchewan against New Brunswick, Alberta against Nova Scotia and Quebec against Prince Edward Island.

The Manitoba-Saskatchewan battle was tense all the way. It wasn't until the ninth end that Johnson, skipping the Manitoba champions, Winnipeg Strathconas, posted a three ender that swung the decision his way over Dalt Henderson's Saskatoon Nutana club. He followde up with a two in the 10th that put the match irrevocably out of Henderson's reach.

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA-Ontario contest was even closer once Perry Hall's Kitchener rink started rolling. Frank Avery had led his Vancouver four to a 8-1 lead by the end of the sixth but from there on it was anybody's game.

Ontario started on a comeback in the seventh end when they scored a single. They added two more in the ninth as Skip Hill's last rock drew in beside one already counting, and then posted a three-ender in the 10th, taking advantage of missed shots by British Columbia.

THE NORTHERN-ONTARIO Alberta tussle was another tight, low-scoring affair, as the two rinks alternated on knockout and lie shots for single points but Skip Billy Rose drew in neatly in the 10th to extend the Alberta lead to 6-3 and added another two in the next end. The best Tom Ramsay's Kirkland Lake four could do was a single in the 12th.

The New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island match was in doubt until the last rock. New Brunswick, skipped by Fen McKelvey of St. John drew ahead 8-6 with a two-ender in the 10th but Frank Hansen of Charlottetown immediately took over the lead with a three in the next end. Two rocks in the house in the final end gave the Saint John rink its first victory.

The Quebec-Nova Scotia game was never in doubt after Skip Ted Thompson took a two-point lead in the first end and added another three in the third while holding Dr. George Macintosh's Halifax four to a singleton in the second and fourth ends. Thompson added two more points in each of the fifth and sixth and a three in the eighth end to make sure of the result.

Westglen High Senior Champs In Basketball

Westglen won the city high school senior boys' basketball championship Wednesday night as they wound up a best-of-three series by trimming Victoria 33-29 in the Westglen gym.

The game started with the series deadlocked, each team having previously scored a win.

George Greenwood paced the victors, netting 15 points. The end of the first quarter found the score tied at 6-all but a hectic second heat put the home team on the long end of a 25-20 count.

Each team caged six points again in the third, and in the final lap Vic outscored Westglen 9-6 in a game bid for the title.

LINEUPS

Westglen: Greenwood (15), Bodnar (4), Savage (4), Pearce, MacLachlan (6), Fleming (6).

Victoria: Mendryk (10), Mayson (6), Shipka, Dreyer (5), Parkiss (5), Teskey, Barnes (3), Patterson, Harvie.

Officials: Arnold Henderson, Geo. Speers.

MARCH 7, 1946.

Stocks—
At New York: Slow rally.
At Montreal: Mostly ahead.
At Toronto: Industrials gain.

Wheat—
At Winnipeg: Trading suspended. .
At Chicago: Unchanged, closing at 1.83½ (May).

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, March 7.—(AU)—The stock market enjoyed a snail-like rally today with liquors, motors, aircrafts, rails and amusements leading the procession. Dealings slowed to a crawl after a fairly active opening and transfers of around 900,000 shares were among the smallest for a full strength since last August.

LONDON STOCKS

LONDON, March 7—(Reuters)—Business on the stock exchange fell off today with little other than routine business. Financial observers felt the slackening was at least partially due to Winston Churchill's Tuesday speech in Fulton, Mo.

It was felt that many investors felt that the full reaction to Mr. Churchill's speech was still to come and preferred to wait and see developments in the next few days before venturing capital.

AUSTRALIAN HOUSING

CANBERRA — (CP) — Australia needs to re-house half of its population during the next 10 years according to a report of the Commonwealth Housing Commission. The commission says that 700,000 housing units are needed and this number takes care of slum clearance plans.

Rye Continues Show Declines

WINNIPEG, March 7.—(CP)—Rye futures prices continued to show declines in the coarse grains market on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Lower tendencies of Chicago prices brought out selling in all three months which found support thin. May closed 4¼ lower at $2.36¼ bid; July fell the full five cent limit at $2.27 asked and October 2⅝ lower $1.83⅞.

There was substantial export business recorded with approximately 1,500,000 bushels of wheat sold to the United Kingdom and about 300,000 bushels bought for shipment to Portugal.

Sell-Off Reduces Chicago Futures

CHICAGO, March 7.—(AP)—Grain futures today generally encountered the broadcast sell-off in several weeks and some deliveries were below ceiling prices for the first time in months. Oats and May rye were sharply lower most of the time.

September and December rye contracts which had been frozen at top allowable figures since early winter slipped fractionally for a while, along with December wheat which had held continuously at the maximum since Jan. 25.

Transactions in wheat were more numerous, mostly at ceiling figures, but corn offerings continued scarce or absent.

Wheat closed unchanged to ⅛ cent lower, corn unchanged at $1.21½ ceiling, oats unchanged to 1¾ cents lower, rye unchanged to ⅞ off, barley unchanged at $1.26½ ceilings.

Cash grain:

Wheat—No. 2 red and No. 2 hard, 1.82 nominal, ceiling; corn: No. 2 yellow 1.19½ ceiling nominal; oats, No. 2 white 86-87 ceiling nominal; barley, malting, 1.25-1.43½, nominal.

Grain close:

Wheat—May 1.83½; July 1.83½; Sep. 1.83⅜; Dec. 1.83.

Corn—May 1.21½; July 1.21½; Sep. 1.21½.

Oats—May 83; July 81; Sep. 78¾-⅝; Dec. 78⅞-¾.

Rye—May 2.15⅝-⅞; July 1.48½; Sep. 1.48½; Dec. 1.48½.

Barley—May 1.26½; July 1.26½; Sep. 1.26½; Dec 1.26½.

These quotations are on loose eggs. Sales in one-dozen cartons are 2c extra.

Egg receipts through registered stations this week show an increase of approximately 5 per cent. over the preceding week. Otherwise the market remains unchanged from last week and continues in a firm position. Quality shows grade A at 74.4 per cent., compared to 79.4 per cent. for last week. Regular deliveries to registered stations is being curtailed by road conditions. Five carlots were exported to Great Britain and one lot moved through the Special Products Board for drying during the week. Other movements confined to small L.C.L. shipments to army camps. The retail sales are heavy, with demand chiefly for top grades. All quotations and prices remain unchanged.

POULTRY PRICES

The poultry market continues rather inactive, with receipts of both live and dressed very light. Chicken receipts showed a decrease of 8.3 per cent. and fowl 1.2 per cent. Light broiler receipts are appearing on the local market, with the demand far exceeding the supply. Dealers are paying for broilers on basis of A milkfed 32c. B milkfed 30c, grade B 28c, and grade C 25c. All other quotations remain unchanged.

HATCHERY OUTLOOK

This week's summary is based on reports received from 20 hatcheries which consists of approximately 65 per cent. of the total capacity for the province. These 20 hatcheries report total capacity in use at the present time 70 per cent., and total chicks hached in February as being 243,522, with an average hatchability of 61.8 per cent. No chicks have been exported from Canada up to the present ime. General demand for pullets and mixed chicks is exceptionally good. Demand for cockerels is good for the heavy breeds, but somewhat slower for the lighter breeds. Consequently, approximately 2,500 light weight cockerels were destroyed the past week.

It is considered that bookings to date are approximately 15-20 per cent. heavier than for the same period in 1945. Most hatcheries are booked pretty well to capacity up to the end of May and some into early June. It is considered that bookings for this period are about equal in volume as compared to the same period in 1944. A number of the larges hatcheries report a shortage of egg supply for all breeds, due to low production. Considerable quantities are being brought in from B.C.

LIVESTOCK TRAFFIC

EDMONTON, March 7—Total receipts of cars trucked, driven and shipped by rail to local livestock agencies: Cars 15, cattle 491, calves 23, hogs 601, sheep 40.

Shipments on March 5: To Eastern Canada, 2 cars hogs; to British Columbia, 2 cars hogs, 1 car cattle, 1 car cattle and hogs, 1 car calves and hogs.

There are approximately 9,000,000 delinquent and needy children in the United States.

Vernon Qualifies Along With Trail B.C. Intermediate

VERNON, B.C., March 7.—(CP)—Vernon Legionaires defeated Prince George all-stars 7-3 here Wednesday night to win the Okanagan intermediate championship and the right to play Trail for the interior title. Legionaires won the first game of their scheduled best-of-three series 10-7 here Monday night.

Trail won the Kootenay title last night when they took their two-game total-points series with Fernie intermediates 13-12. Fernie won Wednesday night's contest 6-3 after dropping the opener 10-6, Monday.

The Okanagan-Kootenay series begins here Saturday night and the provincial finals for the Coy cup will be played here beginning March 16, with the Western Canada finals scheduled to start here March 21.

Insurance Plan Becomes Law

REGINA, March 7.—(CP)—The Saskatchewan government's compulsory automobile accident legislation covering every Saskatchewan motorist and pedestrian against personal injury to a maximum of $5,000, became law last night as it and nine other measures were given royal assent by Lt.-Gov. R. J. M. Parker in the legislature.

THE INSURANCE BILL, previously described by the Liberal opposition as the "greatest hoax ever perpetrated on the people of any province under the guise of insurance," sets up an insurance fund and will be operated by the CCF government insurance office.

Ordinary motorists will pay an extra $5 for their auto licenses starting this month and $1 extra for their driver's licenses. Rates scale higher for taxies and commercial and public vehicles.

Halt Gambling

FRANKFURT, Germany, March 7.—(AP)—The gaming room of the officers' mess in headquarters, United States forces in the European theatre, was closed last night by the headquarters command after the army received complaints that fabulous sums of money were being won and lost nightly.

Landslide Helps

CYNWYD, Pa., March 7.—(AP)—A landslide, which tumbled a 40-foot hill into Mrs. Donald Hardy's back yard and collapsed two retaining walls, proved a blessing in disguise. Mrs. Hardy was planning to start house-hunting because the home she now rents had been put up for sale. "But the would-be buyers took one look at the backyard," she said, "and fled."

Study Amendments To Calgary Charter

Amendments to the Ctiy of Calgary charter which would permit taking votes of the hospital patients, and the collection of taxes from out-of-the-city business people were discussed by the legislature's committee on municipal law at a meeting Thursday.

OTHER AMENDMENTS to the charter which were considered by the committee related to advance polls; the suspension of business licenses by the chief of police and a clarification of a clause specifying the type of property necessary for a vote on a money by-law.

Mayor J. C. Watson, John Miller, city clerk and D. S. Moffat, city solicitor, of Calgary, attended the committee meeting.

Claims Spy Ring Uncovered in U.S.

By JAMES F. DONOVAN

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

WASHINGTON, March 7—(BUP)—Chairman John S. Wood, D., Ga., hinted broadly today that his house Un-American Activities committee has uncovered a foreign spy ring seeking information on the atom bomb plant at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

He told reporters the committee had been interested in the Oak Ridge project for some time and had been conducting secret investigation of its security.

"WE HAVE GONE FAR enough in our investigation to show," he said, "that there are elements in this country who are decidedly seeking information that our military authorities have not authorized to be given out."

He said "there might be some Americans involved but the investigation so far points to foreign nations."

Wood refused to amplify his statement except to say the foreign agents "knew what was going on at Oak Ridge."

Continue to Probe B.C. Black Market

VANCOUVER, March 7—(CP)—Royal Canadian Mounted Police and prices board officials continued today their investigation into an alleged black market in textiles said unofficially to be linked with theft of $1,000,000 worth of goods in Halifax Harbor.

Four persons charged with displaying goods for sale without identifying marks appeared in police court here yesterday and were remanded until March 13. Charged are Abraham Levison, his wife, Helen, Murray Goldman and Alec C. Meyers.

POLICE and prices board officials continued silent about the probe said to involve a $100,000 black market textile ring in Vancouver.

The Vancouver Daily Province said that investigators were examining today the books of several firms seized yesterday. The Daily Province also said that RCMP had received authorization from Ottawa to lay further charges and these charges are expected to be laid some time today.

Pride in Alberta Is Urged by Firm

Currently appearing in weekly and daily newspapers is a series of advertisements sponsored by the Calgary Brewing and Malting Company. The advertisements are titled "Take Pride In Alberta" and set out in both picture and written form the achievements and future possibilities of our province.

FAR PASTURES look green when we fail to notice the lucious growth right under our feet. We become so accustomed to our own advantages that we fail to realize just how well off we are until our good fortune is pointed out to us These well written, well planned and timely advertisements should bring to all Albertans a new appreciation of their province as well as selling Alberta to many new settler citizens.

The same company is also sponsoring a series of radio broadcasts by Harper Prowse, Army representative in the provincial legislature and Edmonton Bulletin columnist who has, through his untiring efforts, become the No. 1 spokesman for returned men in this province. His weekly broadcasts may be heard Sundays from CFAC, Calgary, at 9:45 p.m., or from CFRN, Edmonton, Thursdays, at 8:15 p.m.

Seattle Ironmen Take Game Lead

SEATTLE, Wash., March 7—(CP)—Seattle Ironmen forged into a one-game lead in the best-of-three northern division Pacific Coast Hockey League semi-finals when they turned back Portland Eagles 3-1 here Wednesday night.

Second game will be played in Portland Thursday night and third, if necessary, also in Portland Saturday. The winners meet Vancouver Canucks in a best-of-five final.

Eddie Dartnell, Dick Milford and Maurice Duffy were Seattle mraksmen while Eddie Shamlock netted Portland's lone counter.

10 Killed, Cruiser Damaged in Clash

SAIGON, Indo-China, March 7.—(AP)—Chinese artillerymen who opened fire on a French naval and troop force off Haiphong harbor yesterday killed at least 10 soldiers and severely damaged the French light cruiser Triomphant, French authorities said today.

The cruisers Triomphant and Emile Bertin and escorting craft were standing off Haiphong, port of Hanoi, the Indo-China capital, with 20,000 troops prepared to take over occupation from Chinese forces.

THE FRENCH SAID the Triomphant was hit in four places, and two landing craft were set aflame by the Chinese fire. The Triomphant withheld her fire for 40 minutes but finally opened up on the Chinese infantrymen with her five-inch guns, the French statement said. The French then withdrew. Liaison was sought with Chinese authorities ashore.

(Chinese dispatches from Chungking said the exchange was due to "technical difficulties" and that French occupation of the port had been delayed until Thursday.)

Mixed Robber Band Attacks and Robs Winnipeg Resident

WINNIPEG, March 7.—(CP)—Police here today had something new on the books—a hunt for a mixed gang of robbers, two boys and three girls, all about 18 years of age.

The five attacked Frank Jones in Northwest Winnipeg last night, dragged him into a lane, and robbed him of $32.

Jones told police the boys and one girl were the main aggressors. They knocked him to the ground, searched him and escaped with his wallet. The other girls acted as lookouts at the lane entrance.

The ROAD AHEAD

By HARPER PROWSE, M·L·A·

YESTERDAY'S column dealt with the provisions under which veterans might obtain agricultural leases on provincial lands, provincial school lands, and provincial lands reserved in areas where irrigation development is planned. Today I will outline the Peace River land clearing scheme, under which new land is to be made available for settlement by veterans.

AT THE SPECIAL session of the Legislature last summer an agreement between the province and a firm who undertook to clear the lands was ratified by the Legislature. So far, due, in the first instance, to difficulties encountered in obtaining the required machinery from the United States, and recently by the unusual depth of snow this winter in the north, work has not yet commenced. However, the necessary machinery is now available, thanks to the efforts of Hon. N E. Tanner, provincial minister of lands and mines, and Hon. James A MacKinnon, Dominion minister of trade and commerce, and work will commence as soon as weather conditions permit—at any event, early in the spring.

THE FIRST TRACK of land picked out lies half-way between Tangent and Spirit River—27 miles east of Spirit River. The railroad and a highway run right through the middle of it. It is close to both schools and markets. Second and third districts have been ear-

Work on Highway Soon in Full Swing

A considerable amount of road-building machinery is already on the site of construction and with the heavy snow disappearing fast, work on 230 miles of the Grimshaw-Slave Lake Highway within Alberta will soon be in full swing.

R F. JENNINGS, managing director of Standard Gravel and Surfacing Company of Calgary, who have the contract for the Alberta section of the highway, was an Edmonton visitor Wednesday.

Mr. Jennings said that caterpillar tractors and other equipment are already in the north and more is being shipped in.

He said the construction firm will employ from 100 to 150 men on the work this summer.

MERVYN "RED" DUTTON, president of the National Hockey League and former defence star with Calgary Tigers of the Western Canada Professional Hockey League is president of the Standard Gravel and Surfacing Company.

Mr. Dutton may visit Edmonton in connection with the road work, Mr. Jennings said.

Major Pratley To Leave Army

Maj. Raymond J. Pratley, ED, district records officer, has proceeded on leave pending retirement from the Canadian Army, headquarters MD No. 13, announced today.

A VETERAN of World War I, when he was awarded the Meritorious Service Medal, Major Pratley was appointed adjutant of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment on its mobilization in 1939, and later adjutant of the Depot Edmonton Regiment. In August of 1940 he was transferred to the Basic Training Centre at Camrose and promoted to the rank of major.

He was further transferred to the Basic Training Centre at Wetaskiwin in May, 1942, where he was stationed until he received his present appointment in November, 1943. His son, Lt. J. L. Pratley, died of wounds in Sicily in August, 1943, while serving with The Loyal Edmonton Regiment.

BORN IN LONDON, England, Major Pratley came to Edmonton in 1910 and in civilian life was with the provincial audit depot for the Alberta government.

Essentials to Canada's Future Named at Meet

Furtherance of private enterprise, assistance to England in domestic and financial recovery, a selective immigration policy and improved relations between labor and management, were named as essentials to Canada's future progress by C. Gordon Cockshutt, Brantford, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, in a noon dinner address to delegates attending the regional conference of Alberta boards of trade and chambers of commerce Wednesday in the Macdonald hotel.

HE DESCRIBED the policies of negotiation between American management and labor during the recent and current labor unrest as "going to extremes," and added that by examining ways and means Canadian business and labor should be able to find less serious methods of settling their differences.

He called for vigilance and a re examination of the principles of Canadian business, adding the warning: "If you as businessmen don't take your business seriously, in the next few years, somebody else will take care of it for you."

It was up to businessmen to proclaim their case at every opportunity, and in this interest chambers and boards could be of great value.

"Labor is well organized in Canada and they are losing no chance to make their situations known throughout the country," he said.

PROSPERITY OF CANADA depended to a great extent upon a sound England, and our efforts should be channeled toward helping her to her feet.

Pointing to the good record established by Czechoslovakian immigrants to Canada during the war, Mr. Cockshutt advocated a selective policy of immigration as a move in the right direction toward prosperity for Canada.

Common peril had established unity in Canada during the war, but now that fear of aggression was removed the country appeared to be approaching divisions again. This should be corrected, he urged. Unity was necessary in a thorough development of Canada's potentialities.

HE LOOKED WITH disfavor upon the prevalence of "blueprint plans and evangelical philosophies" vying for control of Canada's economy, and traced the recent history of Germany as an example of what might accrue through adoption of similar systems.

He exhorted business men to meet the new situations of the future with courage and confidence, and that they would come through "holding their heads high."

C. D. Jacox, president of the Edmonton chamber, was chairman.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

What is your impression of the warning given by local police officers regarding the necessity of leaving large amounts of money and valuables in office safes which are not entirely burglar proof?

THE ANSWERS

MIKE SACHKIW, filing clerk: I am entirely in sympathy with the warning but at the same time I cannot help feeling that since the taxpayers of Edmonton are being assessed for the costs entailed by police protection, there should be forthcoming some further action from the police than advice to get a better place to keep one's valuables.

ALICE BEATTY, comptometrist: I think the problem is simply one of taking proper care of one's money. If a person is not sure that his safe or other "hiding-place" is 100 per cent secure, then he should leave his money where it will be safe . . . in a bank for instance.

VAUX MARTIN, student accountant: The police are probably in a better position than anyone to know what the situation is regarding burglars and their habits. If the police give the warning that this fraternity is active, then I hope I'm sensible enough to take warning and guard my money and valuables accordingly.

Elderly City Man Injured by Auto

A 75-year-old man, Thomas Dodds, 10627 72 avenue, suffered facial abrasions and bruises when he was knocked down at the intersection of 107 avenue and 105 street about 10:45 p.m. Wednesday by a car driven by Michael Javaron, Sub PO. 23.

Driver of the auto stated that he was driving west on 107 avenue on the south side instead of the north side of the avenue. He said this was the common practise of motorists in the district due to the poor condition of the north side of the avenue.

JAVARON TOLD POLICE that as he approached the 105 street intersection he suddenly saw Mr. Dodds standing in the street waiting for an approaching street car. He slammed on his brakes but was unable to avoid hitting the elderly man, the driver stated.

Injured man was rushed to the Royal Alexandra hospital by Mr. Javaron, who remained at the hospital until medical attention had been rendered and then drove Mr. Dodds to his home.

Injuries consisted of cuts over the nose and forehead and bruises to both legs.

Urges Former Service Women Take Training

To get ex-servicewomen to take the training available for them so that they may start at a higher level in the jobs open for them is the aim of the department of veterans' affairs, Dr. M. D. Salter, superintendent of women's rehabilitation, said here on Thursday.

DR. SALTER, formerly a major in the CWAC, is in Edmonton on the course of a trans-Canada tour. She leaves on Friday for Vancouver.

The main courses the women take are commercial courses and hairdressing, stated Dr. Salter, but they are not limited to that. There are many openings for girls in hotels, restaurants, dry cleaning firms, garment manufacturing and household employment.

HOWEVER, SHE made it clear that it is the DVA's aim to train women for these jobs so that they may enter as skilled workers and not as unskilled labor.

Dr. Salter was also very keen on some of the courses now open to the women in Calgary. These were in convalescent nursing and household management, a homemakers course, and a short course in household employment.

THERE ARE ALSO many openings for girls in the field of trained nurses, which offers an excellent opportunity to those having the necessary preliminary education requirements, said Dr. Salter.

Altogether in this district approximately 1,000 women have been discharged from the three forces.

3-Day Ukrainian Meeting in City

More than 240 delegates, representing 130 branches, are scheduled to attend the 3rd provincial convention of the Association of Ukrainian Canadians.

The proceedings will take place at the Ukrainian Labor Temple, 10628 96 street. Official opening will take place at a variety concert, arranged by the Edmonton branch, on Thursday at 8 p.m., with Mayor Harry Ainlay welcoming the incoming delegates.

This is the first provincial convention since the end of hostilities and naturally the gathering will deal with the post-war program of the association.

P. Prokopchak of Toronto, national secretary of the association and M. Shatulsky, editor of the Ukrainian Word a Ukrainian weekly published in Winnipeg, will address the convention.

Brides, Children Dock at Halifax

Forty-seven dependents of Canadian Army personnel have docked in Halifax aboard the Mauretania, headquarters of MD 13 announced today. Movement from the post will be by special trains and exact time of arrival at their destination will be announced later.

Premier Consulted On Sugar Factory

Officers and members of the eastern irrigation district which is headquartered at Brooks conferred with Premier Ernest Manning after the Legislature rose Tuesday evening, in connection with the erection of a beet sugar factory in that area. The conference was said to be of a routine nature and only one of a series of similar conferences which have been held in the past year.

Investment Dealers Plan Public Confidence Drive

National campaign to establish with the Canadian public that recognized investment dealers of Canada are responsible for the creation and maintenance of a "sane, healthy money market" has been launched by top officials of the Investment Dealers' Association of Canada, three of whom were in Edmonton Thursday meeting local investment firms officials.

EASTERN HEADS of the association visiting Edmonton are: A. S. Torrey, president of the association, vice-president of W. C. Pitfield and Co. Ltd., Montreal; J. W. G. Clark, executive assistant to the president and former director-in-chief of public relations for the armed forces, of Ottawa and Toronto, and J. A. Kingsmill, Toronto, secretary.

EDMONTON MEMBER firms of the Investment Dealers' Association, heads of which conferred with the three association officials here, include: D. M. Duggan Investments Ltd., H. M. E. Evans and Co. Ltd., James Richardson and Son Ltd., and Sydie, Sutherland and Driscoll Ltd.

The main object of the educational campaign will be to safeguard the interests of the Canadian investor, large and small, Mr. Clark said in an interview.

HE SAID IT WAS the aim of the association officials to attain an ethical standard and degree of protection to investors among investment dealing firms of a standard now applying to banks and insurance firms of Canada.

Each region and probably each province has problems peculiar to the particular areas, Mr. Clark pointed out.

In Ontario for instance the problem of racketeering in mining stocks is now being dealt with, Mr. Justice McTague, security and frauds commissioner for the province, now being engaged into a searching probe of racketeering charges.

OTHER PROVINCES have problems applying only to themselves, Mr. Clarke pointed out.

The investment association officials have held conferences with investment firm heads throughout the Maritimes and are now holding similar meetings in the west.

The three plan to leave Friday for the west coast.

U of A Color Night Set For March 4th

One of the outstanding events of the U. of A. campus every year is Color Night when all truly deserving students receive recognition for the great part they have played during the year in extra-curricular events.

COLOR NIGHT WILL BE held March 14 in the Macdonald hotel. Jack Jorgens has been appointed as master of ceremonies. The affair, which is formal, commences with a banquet, followed by the presentation of awards, and finishes off with a grand ball. Frank McLeavy's orchestra will provide the music.

The highest award given each year is the gold ring for outstanding service in campus activities. Winners of this award for 1945-46 have been named: Ron Helmer, Bud Eggenberger, Dave Bentley, Jim Spillios and Sylvia Calloway.

Repeat Warning Playing on River

Despite warnings issued by city police against children playing on the softening ice of the North Saskatchewan River, five boys were found playing near open water down stream from the Dawson bridge Wednesday evening. The boys were all under 15 years old.

Chief Constable Reg. Jennings again issued an appeal Thursday for the co-operation of parents in keeping their children away from the river. The recent spell of mild weather has made the ice dangerous and the only way to avoid a tragedy is to keep right away from the river, he said.

Kisses Are Sold In Relief Drive

Adding to funds for the international student's relief drive, $16 worth of kisses were pressed against the cherry lips of two coeds at the University of Alberta Wednesday. And adding some more, a raffle was held, prizes being dates with Pamela Wildman, Margaret Carter and Barbara Duke, with the winners being Jack Geddes, Pat Johnstone and Brian Sproule. That raised $209. Those are just two ways in which a total of $1,000 has so far been raised in the campaign to obtain $2,500, at the University of Alberta.

Delegation Sees Premier to Urge University Branch

A delegation of nine Calgary and district people spent two-and-a-half-hours in conference with Premier Ernest Manning, Hon. R. Earl Ansley, minister of education, and others Ash Wednesday, presenting a plea from the southern city for a branch of the University of Alberta to be established there. Five Calgary MLA's accompanied the delegation. No official announcement was forthcoming from the conference, but delegates revealed that the premier had asked them to prepare a brief for presentation to the cabinet.

French Cultural Club Has Banquet

Pre-war France as seen through the eyes of a child was the subject for an address given Wednesday evening by Pierre d'Estrube, Victoria, pre-med student at the university, who addressed the annual banquet in the Corona hotel of Le Cercle Francais, French cultural club on the University of Alberta campus.

THE SPEAKER DESCRIBED a voyage he made to France in 1930 and discussed some of the impressions received. The function was attended by Mr. Justice Frank Ford, chancellor of the university; Miss Miriam Bowman, honorary president of Le Cercle Francais; E. Green, Mrs. I. Werry and Miss M. Font, all of the university's French department, and others.

A French motion picture was shown by the university extension department, while other entertainment included a number of skits presented by club members and community singing of French selections led by Alex Snowden.

In charge of arrangements was the club executive: president, Miss Joan Fraser; vice-president, Kenneth Simpson; secretary, Dennis Townsend; treasurer, Miss Eileen Keyte.

More Than $3,000 Given Red Cross

More than $3,000 has been donated by Edmonton business firms and two district organizations in the first three days of the Northern Alberta Red Cross campaign, according to announcement from Red Cross headquarters here. The three-week campaign opened Monday in conjunction with a nation-wide drive for funds for the peace-time work of the Red Cross during the coming year.

LARGER DONATIONS were received from H. G. MacDonald and Company, $300; Western Construction and Lumber Company, $250; McGavin Ltd. employees, $300; and Innisfree Red Cross branch, $500.

Donations of $100 or more were received from Standard Iron Works, Northwestern Manufacturing Company, Edmonton Journal, Hales H. Ross, McGavin Ltd., and Dr. Boulanger. A contribution of $95 was given by the Women's Welfare Society at Winfield.

This year's drive is being conducted without the customary house-to-house canvass and Edmontonians are urged to mail, send or take their donations to loan headquarters in the Sterling Shoe Store, 10150 Jasper avenue.

Recreation Centre Interest Sought

Initiating a public move to ascertain the amount of interest behind the proposed civic recreation centre advocated by Mayor Harry Ainlay, the Edmonton Allied Arts Council in conference Wednesday decided to call a public meeting in the near future.

THE COUNCIL, SIMILAR to a federation, represents a large number of theatrical groups and art organizations of the city, and through its executive, headed by Dr. George Hunter, went on record as favoring the establishment of such a centre in downtown Edmonton.

A resolution requesting information on proposed censorship of motion pictures and textbooks was passed, and the meeting agreed on its submission to Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary.

The council's dramatic section under direction of Mrs. E. S. Haynes has trained about 60 students of histronics, it was learned in reports of the organization.

Advantages of the English language were dramatized in a play written and directed by Mrs. Mary Adams Davies.

Lasting Period Unemployment Said Unlikely

With shortages and unrest throughout the world, Canada and the United States should experience no lasting period of unemployment but will, on the contrary, have "to pitch in and produce at top speed," His Honor Judge W. J. Lindal, Winnipeg, chairman of the prairie regional unemployment committee, declared in an interview here Thursday.

JUDGE LINDAL WILL preside at a two-day meeting of the committee to be held in Edmonton Thursday and Friday, where employment problems affecting the three prairie provinces will be studied for the purpose of making recommendations to the national employment committee and in turn to the minister of labor.

Submissions are received by the board of about 20 from local heads of industry, representatives of labor and war veterans' organizations.

A. D. HARVIE, KC, is chairman of the Edmonton committee and representatives on the prairie organizations include A. J. Maure and Malcolm Ainslie of Edmonton, A. C. MacKay, Calgary, and D. McDonald of Drumheller.

Placing of industry in Alberta and supplies for UNRA from this province will be two important matters discussed at the Edmonton sitting of the board, Judge Lindal said.

SUDDEN ENDING of the war and shortage of materials are the two main causes for the "temporary condition of unemployment" facing Canada at present, the board chairman believes.

The committee holds sittings at leading centres in the three prairie provinces.

Recover Truck

Truck owned by T. R. Flynn and Sons, 9844 106 street, was recovered by the owner about 10:45 p.m. on Wednesday, less than two hours after it had been stolen from in front of the above address. Car was located about one-half block away from 9844 106 street, abandoned in the centre of the roadway. The truck was undamaged and $25 worth of gyproc was left untouched.

In shipping, dead weight is the carrying capacity of a vessel, and includes the tons of cargo and coal.

Hears Delegates

Hon. R. E. Ansley, minister of education, who received a delegation of nine Calgary and district representatives on Ash Wednesday. The delegation was seeking the establishment of a branch of the University of Alberta in the southern city.

Steady Coal Mine Work Is Discusse

Plans to provide continuity of employment in Edmonton and district coal mines were under discussion Thursday at a meeting between the city commissioners, coal operators and miners. The meeting is being held at the Civic Block.

OPERATORS AND MINERS are extremely anxious to eliminate the slack season layoffs which have been the custom in the Edmonton field. They state that it is becoming increasingly difficult to retain miners in the district, or to obtain men to take employment in the mines.

It is understood that the city will be asked to provide greater storage space at the city's power plant for summer-mined coal, and also to lend assistance in other storage facilities.

Some preliminary discussions have taken place with civic officials, and it is expected that a report from the city commissioners on the present negotiations will be submitted to city council next Monday night.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Girls Are Just Bluffing Being Sophisticated

Teen-Age Boys Ask Advice on How to Treat Girls; They Say Girls Take Many Things for Granted

Dear Miss Dix: We are five uncertain teen-age boys. Could you straighten us out on a few personal points? (1) Is it right to kiss your date good-night if you really care for her? (2) Is it proper to hold a girl's hand while walking with her in public? (3) Why do girls take so many things for granted and think we have a crush on them if we so much as smile or ask them for a dance at parties? (4) Why do girls try to act years older than they really are? This tends to make us feel inferior. (5) When we take a girl to the movies, should we select the show we go to or leave it up to her?

ANXIOUS BOYS

Answer: Well, boys, girls are kittle-cattle and you can't treat them all alike, but, generally speaking, the teen-agers are just bluffing when they pretend to be sophisticated. They are no more certain about what is the proper thing to do when they step out than you are.

NOW TO answer your questions. (1) It is all right to kiss your date good-night if you really care for her, but make it snappy. The long drawnout kisses that you see in the movies are not adapted to real life. They lose flavor. And one is enough. (2) There is nothing improper in holding a girl's hand while walking in public, but it just looks so common, like Mary Jane's night off. And don't let any girl hang on your arm when you go abroad. It puts you in the attitude of just having been captured by a female who has a strangle-hold on you.

(3) Girls make a terrible mistake in assuming that every boy who is polite to them has fallen in love with them. It scares many a nice chap off. (4) The reason the bobby-sockers act years older than they really are is because they think it makes them seem worldly wise and dangerous. If they had the slightest idea that dressing like an elderly siren and assuming a bored, blase air wasn't popular with you boys, they wouldn't do it.

(5) When you take a girl to the movies, ask her what she would like to see, but always have a suggestion to make up your sleeve. Nothing is so embarrassing to a girl as to go out with a boy who makes her do all the planning.

Dear Miss Dix: My mother is driving me insane. I am a girl of 16 and think I should be allowed to live my own life. She objects to every date I have and never lets a boy come into the house. My father agrees with me, but we can do nothing with Mother.

Should I humor her or do as I please?

SUFFERER

Answer: A girl of 16 who undertakes to live her own life, independent of her parents, is mighty apt to come to grief. She doesn't know her way about any more than a baby does. She doesn't know how to play the game and defend herself against the wolves who are prowling around looking for such little ewe lambs as he is. And she has no way of supporting herself. Every teen-age girl ought to be down on her knees thanking God for the protection of a home and for a mother to make a background for her.

YOUR MOTHER is certainly very foolish in trying to hold you on such a tight rein. She should give you enough liberty to keep you from feeling that you are a prisoner. She should let you have plenty of nice boy friends and have them come to the house, for that is the only way in which she can know what you are doing and what sort of boys you go out with.

Mothers can do as much to make a girl popular as a girl can do for herself, so I would advise you to "humor" the poor old creature who is probably all of 32 or 33 years old.

Dear Miss Dix: Can a girl of 15 be in love with two boys at the same time?

HOPELESS.

Answer: Yes, she can not only be in love with two boys at the same time, but with 22, because she is in love with love and she can fit the romantic halo around any head.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN—

Why Grow Old?

Of course the primary purpose in cooking should be to put good food on the table, such as the carrots Actress Joan Winfield is preparing. But you may go further and develop new dishes which will delight your husband.

IT IS AMAZING that so many girls who marry know so little about planning and cooking the meals which will nourish their families.

It is even more astonishing that so many women who have been married for so long, have such a limited knowledge of food chemistry. Perhaps as the importance of what we eat becomes more apparent to women, a greater number of them will take up the study of nutrition. In the hands of the wife lie not only the health and vitality of her family but many emotional values as well.

JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A MAN WHO IS poorly nourished, one whose diet lacks certain vital food elements, is likely to be touchy and hard to live with. Food which is appetizing and attractively served in a harmonious atmosphere, and yet contains essential food values, goes a long way toward building a happy home! Without some study of nutrition and psychology it is difficult for a woman to realize the importance of the food she serves her family.

The first and most vital thing, of course, is to be certain that your menus supply the body with the foods it requires for best health. After that, for happiest results, the wife should cater to her husband's taste in food as far as she can without lessening her standards of good nutrition. If the two of you have varying likes and dislikes then dishes which both enjoy should be served at each meal. The wife can learn to enjoy some of the dishes her husband enjoys and he can return the compliment by developing a taste for her favorites. When trying new dishes on your husband it is best to do so when you are entertaining friends at home. He is more likely to try them then and may learn to like them.

VARIETY IN MENUS adds to their zestful enjoyment. Favorite dishes can be repeated more often than others. It really pays, in both health and happiness, to study the meals you plan, to learn about nutrition and palatable cooking.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

It is amazing how many children seem to be without appetite for the nice meals served to them. Yet, at times, it isn't too difficult to see the reason for this.

Some children get too many meals in a day. They get generous formulas and then are expected to devour half a can or more of sieved vegetables, fruits, or puddings. They balk at the necessity.

RICH MILK may often be responsible for poor appetites. Few children are capable of drinking daily of milk with high cream content. It is too satisfying, so that other foods go begging. One quick way to pep up a lagging appetite is to skim all the cream from the milk. Later some cream may be added but not as much as before.

FOOD BETWEEN MEALS is a chronic enemy to a lively appetite. Maybe it is only a few crackers or a piece or two of candy, or some rich cookies, but they do prevent the child's stomach from being empty when mealtime arrives. And it is an empty stomach to which food, and food, appeals.

FORCING FOOD when the child is not hungry will make all food disagreeable. The child may not be hungry just because it is mealtime. A few skimpy meals because the child isn't ready for them, will make the subsequent ones the more delightful. That way appetite is encouraged; stuffing when not hungry has the opposite effect.

Too much discussion of food and the necessity to eat this and that may inspire the child to rebel against it. Children have so few ways in which they can make themselves noticeable. If they discover, accidentally, that refusal of food wins them wholesale attention, you may be sure they'll store that knowledge away and put it to the best use.

SUMMED UP; less food at longer intervals, less creamy milk, no food between meals and less talk about the child's refusals will do as much as any mother can do to end the appetitelessness that is not the result of some abnormal or medical condition.

Out leaflet No. 35, "Poor Appetites," offers other ordinary reasons for poor appetites. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

ROBINS DO NOT HAVE RED-BREASTS, AND ARE NOT ROBINS

We have songs and poems about "Robin Red-Breast", but nobody ever saw a red-breasted robin in America. Those who have observed carefully can easily see that the male robins have breasts colored a brownish orange, and the females have grayish breasts, quite dull in color. In England, there are red-breasted robins, but they are a different species, and most of our songs about robins were written with those birds in mind. Our American robin is not a true robin, but is a large thrush which the early colonists mistook for a robin.

Points for Parents

By EDYTH THOMAS WALLACE

Father: "Don't let those big boys boss you around. You go out there and tell them where to get off. I'm not going to start fighting your battles for you."

Father: "You older boys go to one of your own homes to play. We have fixed our yard for Jim and the boys and girls who are near his own age."

It is unfair to ask an immature child to handle a social situation he has not yet developed the ability to manage.

Albertans are lovers of the great outdoors and a kindly nature provided ample means to indulge their liking. Here, strategically nestled among wooded hills and picturesque prairie settings, such beauty spots as Elk Island Park, Gull Lake, Sylvan, Pigeon, Buffalo, Sullivan, Wabamum, Cooking, Birch, Lac St. Ann and many other stream and spring-fed lakes are within easy driving distance of most every Alberta home.

Sylvan Lake IS TYPICAL OF OUR PROVINCIAL PLAYGROUNDS

Located approximately 100 miles north of Calgary and 100 miles south of Edmonton, just west of Red Deer, Sylvan Lake Resort features every facility for full expression of your week-end or vacation mood. Warm sunny days and cool, bracing nights combine to induce perfect relaxation. A gay array of sports and amusements: Fishing, swimming, boating, golfing, bowling, riding, tennis and hiking provide plenty of scope for recreation and fun; theatres, fine dancing pavilions and planned aquatic sports cater to your entertainment moods. Overlooking the lake is a modern, fully licensed hotel with cheery comfortable rooms and smart, convenient appointments.

YES . . . ALBERTA'S LAKE RESORTS HAVE EVERYTHING . . . ENJOY THEM OFTEN THIS SUMMER.

Food Cuts Worry Cooks

Edith McCook, wife of a member of the London Bureau of The Canadian Press, tells in the following article, first of two, how the British housewife feels about recent food cuts. —EDITOR.

By EDITH McCOOK

SOUTH HARROW, Middlesex, England, March 7.—(CP)—It was a glorious victory, but its immediate legacy is greater scarcity of food and monotony of meals, an average British housewife finds.

"I'M GETTING TIRED of bread and cheese," Mrs. Harold Atkins, South Harrow, in Greater London, said when The Canadian Press asked how a typical British housewife feeds her family in this belt-tightening year.

Mrs. Atkins, a competent Scottish homemaker married to a Harrow builder and contractor, finds the food problems of the post-war world baffling. Before the war her comfortable home had been a focal point for her friends and her children's friends. Today, she said, hospitality among neighbods was practically impossible.

She looks with dismay on further cuts in the restricted British diet just announced.

"SHORTAGE of fats is what I find hardest," Mrs. Akins said. In a family of four, when no meals are eaten outside the home, the former eight ounces weekly had not been sufficient and seven will be even worse.

Bread has not been scarce, but it requires butter or margarine to make it palatable, since jam is hard to get and cheese must be spread thinly to cover all its multitudinous uses.

FISH IS unrationed but difficult to get, yet since meat is rationed so strictly it has become of great importance.

A Sunday pie and one or two jam "tarts" for weekday suppers use up most of the fat. Cakes cookies, creamed sauces, potato chips, have all left her family table. So too have soups. There is neither fat nor milk for creamed soups and few bones for meat soups.

Agric Meeting Here on Monday

The March meeting of the Northern Alberta local of the Agricultural Institute will be held in Canada will be held at the University of Alberta cafeteria at 8 p.m. next Monday. Ben Russell, director of water resources for the province will be the speaker, his topic being "Some Possibilities and Problems in the Saskatchewan Drainage Basin." A short business meeting will be held at which change of name, appointment of a committee to draft a constitution and consideration of having affiliate members replace associate will be discussed.

TRY BUILDING UP YOUR CHILD THIS WAY

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, loss of appetite, defective eyesight.

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B_1, D, Riboflavin (G) and Niacin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substances—complete proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells—high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underpar, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

OVALTINE.

Dressmaker Urges Boost In Pension to Aid Spinsters

By JAMES MCCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 7 — (CP)—A neat, bespectacled woman in a brown coat with a letter badge "NSPA" on the lapel has become one of the familiar figures of House of Commons lobbies, listened to with respect by political leaders.

She is Miss Florence White, founder of the National Spinsters Pensions Association, who talks in a kindly Yorkshire voice of what must be done for the unmarried women of Britain. How many there are in the "spinster" class she cannot say but there are about 2,000,000 more women than men and the NSPA has 150,000 active members, all supporting Miss White in her demand that contributory pensions be available to single women at 55 instead of 60 years.

Introduction of the National Insurance Bill brought her to London from her home city of Bradford, where she is in business in a modest way as a dressmaker.

THE BILL provides pensions for women at 60—the present pensionable age—on the basis of 26s ($6) weekly against the present basic rate of 10s weekly plus supplementary sums in cases of need.

"I just talk to members of parliament and tell them our objective," Miss White said. "They know the strength of our organization and they listen. I believe about half the members are strongly in support of our demand for pensions at 55. And this is not a problem confined to Britain; some day you will have to face the same thing in Canada."

Miss White used to watch women leave for work in Bradford at 6 a.m., spend their day at the textile mills and come home at 6 p.m. with household chores still to be done. She saw them continue work without respite while married women, their children grown up and with the security of their husbands' savings, often could take life a little easier.

MISS WHITE began urging pensions for single women in their 50's and finally in 1935 she organized a meeting attended not by a dozen but by 500 women. NSPA had its beginning.

Women's working age is shorter than that of men, Miss White said. Already her organization claims a victory in that contributory pensions are payable to women at 60 and men at 65. But all too often women in the class most in need of pensions at 55 are engaged in types of manual labor where failing strength reduces their value and men are preferred in employment in their later years, she added.

"VERY OFTEN the average single woman, apart from her job, has domestic duties—the married woman has her children and household and the single woman has the care of older people. She, too deserves some relaxation and security before she becomes too old to carry on."

Technically, any unmarried woman is a spinster, but Miss White's main interest is in the group over 45, the women who have remained single and are unlikely to marry after that age. Miss White herself pressumably would fall within her own category of "Spinster".

Penny Reading Scores Success

Tuesday evening, before a capacity audience of 400, All Saints' Choir Association presented their Annual Penny Reading under the patronage of the Rt. Rev. W. F. Barfoot, Anglican Bishop of Edmonton, and Mrs. Barfoot.

The program opened with various vagrant verses vocalized by All Saints Junior Chorus under the baton of Vernon Barford. Several encores were requested. The performance of the one-act comedy, New School of Wives, presented by members of the senior choir was stopped over and over again by waves of laughter. Young and old alike were spell-bound by Sandy Petrovich's miracles of magic.

The concluding number on the program was a comic opperetta by members of the senior choir, directed by Harry Taylor.

Athlones Present National Gallery With Oil Painting

OTTAWA, March 7—(CP)—The Earl of Athlone and Princess Alice have presented a painting to the National Gallery on the eve of their departure from Canada next week, H. S. Southam, chairman of the Gallery's board of trustees, announced yesterday.

The painting, entitled "Death and the Woodcutters," is by a 19th century French artist, Alphonse Legros.

Mr. Southam said the subject was "a favorite one with the artist and he made no less than six different etchings of it, one of which is apparently a study for the National Gallery's painting in which death as a reaper appears to the woodcutter as he gathers his faggots."

A blow with a stick on the tip of the porcupine's sensitive nose will kill him.

Nell Beatty Becomes Bride

In the vestry of Robertson United church on Wednesday at 7 p.m., the marriage took place of Miss Manila G. (Nell) Beatty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Beatty of Edmonton, and William Henry Day, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Day of Calling Lake. The Rev. Dr. Murdoch MacKinnon performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her mother the bride wore a pearl gray afternoon dress fashioned on simple lines with a draped skirt, a black straw off-the-face hat trimmed with pink flowers, black accessories and pink gloves. A corsage of pink roses and hyacinths completed her wedding ensemble.

SISTER OF THE BRIDE, Miss Jean Beatty was bridesmaid and wore a rose wool frock, brown hat and accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

Reginald Beatty, brother of the bride, was best man.

Mrs. Beatty chose for her daughter's wedding a black crepe and satin afternoon ensemble and a corsage of American Beauty roses. Mrs. Day, mother of the bridegroom, wore a wine dress, black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

AFTER THE CEREMONY a reception was held at the Cottage Tea Room for 30 guests, where the bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake embedded in pink tulle and flanked with vases of spring flowers and tall pink frosted tapers. Stuart Baptie proposed the toast to the bride.

Later the couple left for a honeymoon at Calgary and Spirit River, the bride travelling in a three-toned blue, black and rose dress, gray topcoat, black hat and accessories.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Day will take up temporary residence in Edmonton.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. Cameron, Calgary, M. Currie, McLennan.

AIR HEROINE

Edna Belden, RN, RCNVR, who was personally decorated by H.M. King George at Buckingham Palace and made an associate of the Royal Red Cross, is now a stewardess in Trans-Canada Air Lines. Nursing Sister Belden was decorated for her bravery in the disastrous Knights of Columbus fire at St. John's Newfoundland, which claimed over 100 lives. Many of the injured soldiers were flown to hospitals out of Newfoundland and it was for her heroic work on these mercy flights that she was decorated. Miss Belden, who has just graduated from the fifteenth class of TCA stewardesses enlisted in Toronto in 1942, later serving at St. John's Newfoundland, Halifax, and Greenock, Scotland. Before enlistment, Miss Belden resided at Port Mellon, B.C., and her home is now in Vancouver.

Elizabeth Woodward Says . . .

LOVE HER, LOVE HER FOLKS

Some of you boys date a girl, show up at the appointed time, grab her by the paw and scram out of her house as though 40 demons pursued you. You make her promise on her honor that she'll be ready and waiting . . . she'll meet you at the door with her coat on . . . she'll have already said good-night to her family. All because you don't want to say two words to them yourself.

You find girls' parents a little heavy going. They have a way of looking you over. You're sure everything you say and do is being recorded for future hashing. And so, you figure, the less you have to see of parents . . . except your own . . . the better off you are.

YOU'D BE a much smarter lad if you'd cultivate the parents of the girls you like. Oh, if you're going steady with a girl . . . you're around her house so much and so often you've absorbed her folks through your pores. They treat you like an old shoe. And you have nothing to worry about. You talk to her father about things you discuss with your own Dad. You do errands and carry heavy things for her mother, just as you do at home. You give a lift with her brother's fractions . . . just as you've been known to do on occasion with your kid brother. You go steady with their daughter . . . so you've adopted her family too.

But you needn't go steady with a girl to get on friendly terms with her parents. You needn't sit on the edge of your chair wondering what to talk about next. And taking off and putting on your gloves in a tizzy of nervous waiting for your girl to get ready.

YOU CAN BE open and frank, good humored, poised and friendly with the parents of any girl. And if you are, it pays huge dividends. Parents like to know the boys their daughter dates. They like to know where she's going and when she's coming back. They like to know the company she keeps.

If you make yourself a great mystery, they won't care about you at all. But if they feel pretty well acquainted with you . . . if they like what they know about you . . . if they feel that you're a responsible citizen who knows his way around . . . they'll be more willing to trust their daughter in your hands. And that's more than you thought about, I'll bet . . . when you made that date with her!

If something is getting you down . . . spill it in a letter to Elizabeth Woodward . . . she'll be glad to help you. Write her in care of this paper . . . and enclose a stamped and addressed envelope.

Veterans' Course May Be Suspended

Unless various types of sheet metals are made available in the near future it may be necessary to extend or suspend the course in sheet metal work now being conducted for veterans through Vocational Training at the exhibition grounds.

W. J. WILLIAMS, MLA, secretary manager of the Canadian Legion has brought the situation to the attention of Brig. J. E. Lyons, superintendent of rehabilitation training, department of labor, in a telegram Wednesday.

He pointed out that available supplies of necessary material for training purposes was exhausted in the city and province, and claimed that it was now the responsibility of the federal authorities to place CVT training requirements on a preferred priority.

Failing an early adjustment, the wire pointed out, it might become necessary to close the class.

THE VETERANS NOW under training would soon be completing their courses and going out to work, and it was more than ever essential that they have the materials to finish their course properly, it was stated by W. Lyons, instructor of the sheet metal class.

Counsel Clarifies Summons Position

Charge of assault against Arthur Hollstan was withdrawn at the request of the complainant, J. P. Cragg, when he appeared in city police court Thursday morning. Mr. Cragg was ordered to pay the costs of the court.

The crown prosecutor corrected a statement made last Tuesday to the effect that Mr. Hollstan had refused to appear on that date instead of on the statutory court holiday of Wednesday, March 6. An error had been made in the issuing of a summons against Mr. Hollstan in which he was told to appear on Wednesday.

Counsel for the accused stated that Mr. Hollstan was contacted by police shortly before noon Tuesday and told not to appear Wednesday as that was a holiday. "The accused did everything he could even to phoning later the same day and appearing voluntarily this morning," counsel stated.

"I am glad things have been straightened out and I am well satisfied with the explanation given," commented Magistrate A. I. Millar, KC.

Defer Judgment In Court Action

Judgment was reserved by Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor in the supreme court action brought by Alex Shandro, Shandro district farmer, against the Municipal District of Eagle, No. 81, seeking judgment against the municipality for $1,960.

HEARING OF THE CASE opened Wednesday at the courthouse, although it was Ash Wednesday a legal holiday. It appears that the case was set for trial some time ago, and witnesses were notified to attend. Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor consented to hear the case.

The court action arose out of the municipality's renting of an 88-acre parcel of land to which Mr. Shandro had obtained title. The municipality rented the property under the provisions of the Tax Recovery Act, but it is alleged it exceeded the provisions of the act by granting a two-year lease. The act provides only for one year.

Annual Meeting

Imperial Veterans, BICA will hold its annual meeting in the club rooms, 9634 Jasper avenue, on Sunday March 10, at 2 p.m. Nomination of officers for the new term will be held. All members are asked to attend.

Before the Magistrate

Even if you don't get along with your wife it is no excuse for deserting her and your children according to Magistrate A. I. Millar, KC, who Thursday sentenced a husband to a two-month imprisonment term on a non-support charge.

Cecil Young, admitted in court that he had failed to provide for his wife and children since last November. He also admitted having failed to answer numerous letters from his wife. He had been living at Niagara Falls since leaving the army.

Alex Stuart will serve nine months imprisonment with hard labor on charges of false pretenses, possession of stolen property and issuing a forged cheque as result of sentences imposed by Magistrate Millar Thursday.

Stuart was sentenced to three months imprisonment of each of the false pretenses and possession of stolen property charges and to nine months on the forged cheque charge. All sentences were ordered to be concurrent.

A Saskatchewan youth, Arthur Rinke, who claimed he had wanted to go on active service, but hadn't been allowed to was sentenced to one month imprisonment for illegally wearing the Canadian Volunteer Service Ribbon when he appeared in police court Thursday.

Questioned by Magistrate Millar, the youth admitted that he hadn't applied for active service until July, 1944. "The war had been on about five years them," was the dry comment of the Magistrate.

"Your action is most unfair to the boys who went overseas and did some real fighting—one month imprisonment at Fort Saskatchewan," he said.

Friction Continues Despite "Negotiations"

Reds Arrest Iranian Army Officers

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, March 7.—(BUP)—Tehran announced today that the Russians arrested a number of Iranian Army officers yesterday in eastern Iran, from which Moscow said last week the Red Army was withdrawing.

PREMIER AHMED GHAVAM of Iran left Moscow for home. The Russian radio said that during his 16-day stay there he saw Premier Stalin and Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov.

A Moscow broadcast on Ghavam's negotiations said that "both governments will make all efforts in order that favorable conditions can be created for further strengthening of friendly relations between the countries."

AN OFFICIAL announcement in Tehran confirmed earlier reports of friction between Iranian and Russian troops in eastern Tehran. The Iranians were reported moving into the Meshed, Semnan and Shahrud areas of eastern Iran, from which Moscow had said the Soviet forces were withdrawing.

The announcement said the Russians "temporarily arrested" a number of Iranian officers for not having correct passes. The Iranian contingent consisted of 1,500 men, tanks and artillery, Tehran reported.

AFTER BEING HALTED by the Russians at Garsmar, Tehran said, the Iranians returned to Weramine, 30 miles from Tehran.

Demonstrations in Iran shifted from the Parliament building to the bazaar area of the capital, where three persons were killed and five wounded in a clash between right and left wing factions.

Moscow dispatches announced the departure of Ghavam. He was accorded high honors, with Molotov at the field to see him off.

A little later the Moscow radio broadcast a communique on Ghavam's visit. It said he had several talks with Stalin and Molotov.

"DURING THE NEGOTIATIONS which took place during these conversations, and which took place in an atmosphere of friendship, questions of interest to both parties were discussed," it said.

It added the assertion that both governments would try to create favorable conditions for strengthening their already friendly relations.

Wanted: A Blizzard

The 45,000-ton USS Midway, above, newest and biggest aircraft carrier, spearheads a Navy task force headed for sub-Arctic waters in the vicinity of the newly realized northern invasion route. Its assignment: deliberately to seek out the worst possible sea and weather conditions. The Midway will head into blizzards, if possible, allowing planes on flight deck to be covered with snow, then dig them out for take-off and landing tests under adverse conditions. Corespondents and crewmen aboard will wear exposure suits like that pictured at right. Made of rubberized nylon, the slip-on garments are worn over other clothing, with rubberized feet that go into standard sheepskin-lined flight boots.

Dominions Must Act

Lack of Definite Schemes Blocks Empire Immigration

LONDON, March 7.—(Reuters)—The unpeopled spaces of the British Empire are likely to remain just spaces for some time yet unless the dominions act to put forward their post-war immigration schemes.

THOUSANDS OF BRITONS are prepared to leave for the Dominions to start life anew, but the barrier for their departure is that no empire country except Australia so far has any definite immigration scheme.

In the case of Australia which has announced that arrangements have been made for the movement of suitable Britons to the Dominion, it was stated that owing to shortage of shipping and other difficulties it will probably not be possible to bring the plan into operation much before the end of the year.

THE DOMINIONS generally are too busy on resettlement schemes for their own returning servicemen and all plead that there is no shipping.

Countries most in demand by would-be British settlers are, in this order, Canada, the United States, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa. But inquiries in London show that there is little hope in the immediate future for any large scale emigration to any of those countries.

Offices of the Canadian government in London stress that Canada has to deal with the re-establishment in civilian life of between 300,000 and 400,000 soldiers and airmen before any questions of immigration can be considered.

"FIRST OF ALL WE MUST deal with our own rehabilitation, get our dependents back to Canada, and deal with the switchover from war to peace among the people," an official said. "When the picture becomes clearer, then it will be time to discuss immigration.".

marked for clearing and these are closer to the town of Peace River. In selecting the land the authorities have kept in mind the desirability of having it within easy reach of well-settled communities, local markets and railway stations.

Preliminary plans, covered by the agreement, call for the clearing of 100,000 acres. This land will be cleared, leaving sufficient timber standing to prevent erosion, to conserve moisture, and to provide windbreaks, shelter and wood lots, and to conserve suitable timber reserves. The contractor agrees to not only clear the land, but break it and prepare it for seeding. Operations will be supervised by provincial government officials of the departments of agriculture, and land and mines.

THIS LAND WILL be made available in half-section parcels, of which an average of around 300 acres will be cleared. Veterans must submit certificates of qualification from the VLA and a certificate that he is a veteran from the DVA, in making application. If he is approved he may apply to the VLA for the grant of $2,320 for stock and equipment, and to the DVA for benefits while awaiting returns.

In payment for the land no cash is required, nor will it be accepted. The veteran agrees to crop the land fully under the supervision of the district agriculturalists, and to deliver to the government one-third of his crop each year for seven years. That completes his payment. During this period he will not be charged taxes or other rents.

THE CONTRACTOR RECEIVES in payment for clearing the land 30 per cent of the crop for seven years. The difference between this and the payment made to the government, or three and one-third per cent of the crop each year is retained by the government to cover administrative costs and in lieu of taxes. Under the VLA a veteran may not receive title until he has farmed the land for ten years But after his seventh crop payment he has no further payments to make on the land although during the last three years he may be expected to pay the usual municipal taxes.

To ensure that the land is properly prepared for seeding the government has written into the contract an agreement on the part of the contractor that, if the veterans didn't want the land, and nobody else wanted it, he must farm it himself and pay one-third of the crop to the government.

LAND IS EXPECTED to be available under this scheme before the end of the coming summer. It is planned to settle the settlers in central villages in an effort to ease the winter problem and make electrification more feasable.

Say Joan Crawford And Ingrid Bergman Contest For "Oscar"

HOLLYWOOD, March 7—(AP)—Getting ready for its annual Oscar-giving party Thursday night, the word in Hollywood is that the Academy award will go either to Joan Crawford, who made a comeback in "Mildred Pierce," or to Ingrid Bergman, for "The Bells of St. Mary's."

Speculation is that Ray Milland is head and shoulders above any other candidate for male acting honors through his performance in "The Lost Week-End."

For the best picture, Hollywood dopesters say it is a toss-up between the revolutionary "Week-End" and the more popular "Bells."

Espionage Suspect Was With Fusiliers

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 7.—(CP)—Capt. Gordon Lunan, one of nine persons held in connection with espionage activities in Ottawa, formerly served here as signals officer with the Edmonton Fusiliers.

Capt. Lunan, named by Prime Minister Mackenzie King as "the head of the group of agents, acting under Russian direction," was described by acquaintances here as "a charming character."

Grandmother Still Defying Eviction

WESTON, Ont. March 7—(CP)—Mrs. Catharine Ferguson, 84-year-old grandmother, calmly continued her "sit down strike" last night in her small home in this Toronto suburb, stripped of furniture Tuesday by Sheriff's officers, and fully determined to resist any further attempts that might be made to evict her.

Neighbors supplied food and fuel to the house which was emptied of all except one chair by sheriff's officers Tuesday. The law removed stoves and linoleum too, but they couldn't remove Mrs. Ferguson. She and her elderly daughter and son remained in possession of the house all Tuesday night and all through yesterday and were prepared for another night. Beds had also been supplied by sympathetic neighbors.

ONE OF THE NEIGHBORS, Mrs. Archie Wain, reported that some of the Ferguson grandchildren from Hamilton had visited Mrs. Ferguson yesterday but were unsuccessful in arranging fresh accommodation for her in Hamilton.

The North York Township welfare officer, Reg. Hewett, said "it's not a case of money in the case of the old lady; it's a case of shelter. As welfare officer I will gladly pay the first month's rent to anybody who will give the Fergusons one or two rooms." But it wasn't a question of money with Mrs. Ferguson either; she was determined to remain in possession of the five-roomed dwelling.

Co-Operation Of Dominions U.K. Govt. Aim

LONDON, March 7—(CP)—Lord Jowitt, who is lord chancellor and a government spokesman in the House of Lords, has declared the Labor administration's attitude towards the Dominions as "We want the closest possible co-operation. . . . We want to have no secrets and no reserves from them at all."

THE LORD CHANCELLOR, speaking in the red chamber, cited Prime Minister Mackenzie King during discussion of foreign policy and relations with the Dominions. Mr. King, addressing the British parliament in 1944, said that in considering new methods of organization care must be taken that these new methods did not appear to attempt to limit the Dominions' freedom of decision or that people outside the Commonwealth gathered the impression a separate bloc was being formed.

"We should be very foolish, I think, to disregard the warning of such a statesman as Mr. Mackenzie King," said Lord Jowitt.

"WE WANT TO BRING them (the dominions) in in every way we can, and if we can find any way of improving the present relationship we shall not hesitate to adopt it, but we are not going to lose the substance for the form."

The Earl of Perth, Liberal, said that high commissioners to the dominions, or personalities specially chosen by the dominions for that purpose should come automatically to meetings called to discuss foreign policy and defence.

Viscount Templewood, Conservative, formerly Sir Samuel Hoare and secretary for foreign affairs, said, "I believe it would be found that we are living in an almost Victorian atmosphere in which we have regarded these posts of dominion high commissioners as principally trade posts and not, as they are today, the posts of our most important ambassadors in the whole of the world."

During the first nine months of 1934 there were 1104 strikes in the United States.

Power Production Reveals Increase

Production for civic requirements at Edmonton's power plant for the period Jan. 1 to March 3, 1946 totaled 22,680,800 kilowatt hours compared with 21,954,400 for the same period last year, and increase of 726,400 kilowatt hours, according to a report filed Thursday with the city commissioners by W. I. McFarland, power superintendent.
